SCIENTIFIC PUGILISM!

Two College Professors Indulge in a Fist Fight Over the Result of a Law Suit.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 14.—A few weeks ago Head Master Gottwald, of the Cleveland school of art, a branch of the Adelbert college, brought a series of charges against Dean Wells, of the same institution, accusing the latter with being immoral and incompetent. A trial was had before a court appointed by the directors of the college, and while Professor Gottwald's charges were found to be unsustained by the evidence, the court considered it necessary to express disapprobation of the manner in which the dean has of late been conducting himself. The verdict was rendered Saturday, and this morning Wells entered Gottwald's studio, in the City hall building, and called him a number of things that the professor did not like. After words had ceased to be strong enough to suit him Dean Wells let go with his right and knocked the professor down. Gottwald then grabbed a dump bell and hammered Wells upon the head with it. Artists who have studios in the same building were attracted by the cries of the fighters and parted them before either had been seriously damaged. It is expected that there will be further sensational developments. The case has attracted considerable attention from the artists of the country.

OF INTEREST TO POLITICIANS.

Central Committees Have the Right to Adjust All Difficulties.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—The state supreme court, in session at Jefferson City, yesterday rendered a decision in the case of state ex rel, O'Malley vs. the secretary of state, which firmly establishes the authority of the state central committee of either political party to interfere, arbitrate and adjust local political differences within a party. This was a proceeding which grew out of Patrick O'Malley's resistance to the order of the state committee calling new primaries and a new convention in the Sixth Congressional district last fall. The opinion was rendered by Judge Sherwood. The court denies the preemptory writ and holds that central committees of political parties have the right to arbitrate and settle differences between candidates.

Mothers Engaged in a Good Work.

GREENCASTLE, Feb. —The mothers of this city are holding weekly meetings with a view to the repression of vice of every description. The meetings are held in the different churches and are participated in by earnest Christian workers, irrespective of the denominational differences. The association aims at the suppression of billiard halls, the reclamation of fallen women and a social edict against progressive euchre as well as all games of chance. At the meeting yesterday the committee reported satisfactory progress in their respective lines of work.

A Decision Affirmed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Judge Blodgett this morning affirmed the decision of the New York board of appraisers in the contest made by Marshall Field & Co., against the payment of certain duties. In deciding the case Judge Blodgett said he had been favorably impressed by the arguments made by the counsel for the contestants, but he thought it best to affirm the decision and allow the matter to be finally settled by the United States supreme court, where an appeal would be taken.

Death of a Prominent Railroader.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Feb. 24.—Gen. John Lawler, who was stricken with paralysis some days ago, died at 1 o'clock this morning. General Lawler was a native of Ireland, and came here in 1857. He was quite wealthy and very liberal, one of his donations being about $100,000 to establish the Catholic college and convent here. He was for many years a director in the St. Paul railroad company.

Hartford City Items.

HARTFORD CITY, Feb. 24.—The New England comedy, "Ruben Glue," which was played here Friday night, was a success and was favored with a crowded house.

Miss Minnie Devore, of Bluffton, is visiting John Leonard.

The Tennessee warblers sang in the opera house Saturday night. Proceeds were for the benefit of the Epworth League.

Died From His Injuries.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 24.—John Okeffe, aged forty-two, employed as a steward on the steamer Helmsley, died at the hospital here yesterday from the effects of injuries which the man alleged were inflicted by the captain, but did not say when or where it happened.

Fifteen Persons Injured.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Feb. 24.—In the accident to the west bound passenger train on the Union Pacific, near Cascades yesterday, fifteen persons were slightly injured, but no one seriously hurt.

Struck a "Gusher."

SHELBYVILLE, Feb. 24.—The Citizens' Natural Gas company has completed its first well in Hancock county. Gas was struck at a depth of 931 feet, and the result was a gusher. The well is said to be one of the best in Hancock county. Other wells will be drilled and gas piped at once. This company was organized in opposition to the Southern Indiana company.

ENGLAND'S GRASPING POLICY.

Scheming to Extend Her Possessions --Foreign News.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Notwithstanding the qualified denial of Sir James Ferguson last night, there is a general belief that Lord Salisbury's government meditates an advance into the Soudan, with the view of re-conquering that vast region for the post and for England. The force at present engaged in upper Egypt is very small and consists largely not of Egyptian, but of native Soudanese troops under British officers, including Colonel Holland Smith, Capt. Beth, of Twentieth Hussars, and Capt. Besant. Sir James Ferguson truly says this force is not strong enough to more than occupy Tokar, but England could not and would not prevent the Khedive from sending a much larger native force under British commanders into the Soudan. The Soudanese troops are magnificent fellows, mostly at least six feet, and of great strength. A dispatch says that the wiry but weaker dervishes could not stand a moment before them when it came hand to hand.

From Zanzibar comes the news of a horrible murder committed by a German named Raddatz, upon an African slave girl, whom he got into his possession. The girl belonged to the Swahili tribe. Raddatz brutally murdered the girl in a bath room, and buried parts of the body on the beach in the neighborhood of his house. The dwelling on being searched, afforded ample evidence of the crime. Raddatz will be tried by the German authorities.

A Vienna dispatch says that the treaty negotiations between Austria and Germany are nearly completed, but the draft of the convention will be kept secret until laid before the parliaments of Germany, Austria and Hungary in the autumn. Meanwhile, it is said, the governments of the two empires will enter into treaty negotiations with other countries, taking the Austro-German convention as a basis, and all the treaties will be submitted together.

ROME, Feb. 24.—The statement published in Italy yesterday that Cardinal Gibbons had been summoned to Rome for a conference on church questions in the United States is denied in vatican circles. It is also stated that there is no question pending which would require his presence in Rome. Two bishops from the United States are expected here at Easter.

BUENOS AYRES, Feb. 24.—The government has gained several seats by the elections for members of the chamber of deputies. The elections were orderly. Four newspapers have been suppressed for seditious utterance in support of opposition candidates.

Amateur Journalists Meet.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The amateur journalists of the United States held a conference here yesterday. Papers were read by Mrs. Edith M. Minutur, of Worcester; William O. Wyllie, of Beverly; John L. Tomlinson, of Chicago; E. F. Pugh, of Uttica; Mrs. E. N. Fry, of Halifax; T. J. Spencer, of Hartford; E. A. Edkins, of Cincinnati, and Miss Fry, of Halifax. In the evening a banquet was held.

Death of a Veteran.

SOUTH BEND, Feb. 24.—Asa Knott, an old and prominent resident of this county, died this morning at 2 o'clock. He was first lieutenant in Company B, Forth-eighth Indiana volunteers, and made a brilliant war record. He was one of the organizers of the Farmer's Mutual Insurance company of St. Joseph county.

Settling on the Cherokee Outlet.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kas., Feb. 24 —The Traveller last Thursday said that letters had been received from Congressman Perkins and others that settlers in the Cherokee outlet could legally hold their homesteads. As a result fully 1,000 settlers have gone in and every quarter section for fifteen miles south of the Kansas border is occupied.

Switchman Killed.

LOGANSPORT, Feb. 24.—T. W. Truax, a switchman in the Pan-handle yards in this city, was almost cut into pieces by a switch engine in the yards yesterday. Notwithstanding his terrible injuries, he lived until 2 p. m. and was conscious most of the time.

By the Morphine Route.

LAFAYETTE, Feb. 24 —Albert Ogborn, of Pine Village, committed suicide last night with morphine. Despondency is given as the cause. A wife and three children survive him.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—For Indiana: Threatening weather and rain; winds generally southerly, becoming variable; colder Wednesday.

Foster's Appointment Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The senate has confirmed the nomination of Charles Foster as secretary of the treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Burger celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding last evening, at 331 South Harrison street.

WILL AVOID A STRIKE.

The Officials and Employes Will Settle Their Differences in a Peaceful Manner.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 24.—A general conference of the employes of the Pennsylvania lines east and west of Pittsburg was held here yesterday, to consider the wage trouble. The members of the eastern grievance committee arrived in this city yesterday afternoon. They had just concluded a lengthy conference in the east and came here to confer with the western men. The advance has been demanded in the east also, and in the event of trouble it is claimed by the members of the grievance committee that the employes of the two systems will work together. Chiefs Arthur and Sargent held a private conference in Cleveland yesterday. The situation is understood perfectly by Mr. Arthur and it is intimated that he is not entirely in accord with some of the leaders in the present trouble. The division superintendents of the Pennsylvania company held a consultation with General Manager Wood. They will prepare a schedule of wages which will be submitted to the grievance committee. If it does not prove satisfactory to the latter more conferences between the officials and the men will be held. Every effort to avert a strike will be made by both sides and a tie-up will be the last resort.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—Twelve engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad company of this city have left for Pittsburg to consult with the engineers and firemen in that city in regard to their difficulty with the railroad. At the Broad street station the men profess to know very little about the matter. The officials at this station say they have paid little heed to the agitation which is now going on at Pittsburg.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.

Interesting Letters From Cleveland Read at Both.

BROCTON, Mass., Feb. 24.—The Young Men's Democratic and Tariff Reform club, of this city, observed Washington's birthday last evening by a banquet at Hotel Belmont. The following letter of regret from ex-President Cleveland was read:

"NEW YORK, Feb. 16.

"Dennis Sheely, Secretary:

"DEAR SIR—I am sorry that I cannot accept your invitation to attend the banquet given by the Young Men's Democratic and Tariff Reform club of Brockton on the evening of the 23d inst. I am only able to say in addition that I am exceedingly gratified to find in the name of your club an indication that the organization recognizes the fact that the cause of the democratic party cannot, or, at least ought not to be seperated from that of tariff reform.

"Yours very truly,

[Signed.] "GROVER CLEVELAND."

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 24.—The dinner given by the Young Men's Democratic club, of Portland, at the Preble house, last evening, in celebration of Washington's birthday, was largely attended by leading democrats. Among the letters of regret were those from Governor Hill, of New York; Governor Russell, of Massachusetts; Senator Gorman, and the following from ex President Cleveland:

"NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—MY DEAR SIR:—I regret that it is impossible for me to accept the invitation received from your committee to attend a banquet at Portland on the 23d, given by the Young Men's Democratic club to celebrate its organization and the recent democratic victories. Both these things are well worthy of democratic celebration. The victories our party has achieved demonstrate that our fellow countrymen appreciate honest and sincere efforts in their behalf, and the advent of a Young Men's Democratic club in Portland gives promise of more earnest and effective democratic effort and the enlistment of powerful aid in the cause of good government. Yours very truly,

[Signed.] GROVER CLEVELAND."

TOO HANDY WITH THE PEN.

A Former Newspaper Man Arrested for Forgery.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 24.—When the steamer U. P. Schenck arrived here yesterday from New Orleans, officers arrested a passenger traveling under the name of Charles T. Smith, on a telegram from the chief of police at New Orleans, saying Smith had passed a forged check on the St. Charles hotel. In his valise was found a number of checks for amounts ranging from $50 to to $4,000 drawn on the Chemical bank and the Lincoln National bank, of New York, and the State National bank of Cleveland, Ohio. Smith claims that there is some mistake about the New Orleans check, and he will make it all right. He claims to be a newspaper man, and says he was formerly editor of the New York Times.

Believed to be American Experts.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Some of the £20,000 in Bank of England notes, stolen by sneak thieves on the 16th inst., from a bank messenger in the office of the National Provincial bank in this city, have been traced to Queenstown, from which fact it is inferred that the two men who accomplished the robbery have sailed for America. The police believed at the time of the theft that the criminals were American experts.

CONFESSES HIS CRIME.

Murdered His Friend for $165 in a Strange City.

MANISTEE, Mich., Feb. 24 —Johanees Salomsen, who was arrested last week on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of Record Carlson, broke down yesterday and made a full confession. He says that he put sixty grains of strychnine in a flask of whisky, and when he came to Manistee with Carlson induced the latter to drink the mixture. Carlson became violently ill, and, on a pretense of securing a doctor, Salmonsen took out his friend's pocketbook, containing his keys, and then left him to die in a vacant lot. He returned to East Lake and in Carlson's trunk found $165 in money, the possession of which led to his being suspected of the crime.

More Trouble in the Coal Mines.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Feb. 24 —A contest between the strikers and non-strikers at the Coke plants near Dawson was narrowly averted yesterday. A crowd of 5,000 strikers came down to get the men in the Fort Hill, Paul and Rainey plants to stop work. Many of the strikers were in liquor and most of them were armed. The employees at work at the mines fled precipitately upon the approach of the mob. No actual conflict occurred. One thousand miners in the Latrobe district will be called out to day. It is said the Clearfield miners will also be called out.

General Sherman's Statue.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—It is proposed to erect a statue of the late General Sherman at the entrance of the new City Hall. The plans of the new building provide for a carriage way leading directly to the door of the building, out side of which is a flight of massive stone steps about fifty feet in length. In the middle of this flight of steps is a pedestal for an equestrian statue. The pedestal is about fourteen feet long and five feet wide. It is proposed to have a mounted statue of General Sherman placed upon the pedestal.

Express Agent in Trouble.

CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 24.—Victor Irvine Clark was arrested here yesterday, charged with having defrauded the American Express company. He was the agent of the company at St. Charles, Iowa, but left there several months ago, taking with him a blank money order book which, together with letters and identifications written by himself and sent forward to his address to the points he expected to visit, he used successfully at the offices of the company.

Want a Prize Fight.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 24.—Billy Sims and Sam Berliner, well known sporting men of this city, announce that they will give a purse of $15,000 for a fight to a finish with skin tight or ounce gloves, between Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Hall, of Australia, the fight to take place in San Antonio during the last week of October or the first week in November.

The Fight Sold.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—The directors of the California Athletic club held a meeting last night to consider the question of awarding the victory for the Mitchell LaBlanche fight which took place last Friday night. After some discussion the decision was postponed until next Monday night. Charges have been made that the fight was sold.

A Cyclone in North Carolina.

NORFOLK, W. Va., Feb. 24.—A tornado swept over Sunbury, Gates county, North Carolina, on Saturday night. The storm swept a space half a mile wide, and carried everything with it. Two children were killed near Sunbury, and it is reported that a number of people were killed further east. The wires are all down and details are lacking.

A New Daily Paper.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Feb. 24 —The Mason City Daily Times is a new venture in the newspaper world. The first issue will appear March 1, with R. Stanbury as editor and proprietor. It will be independent in politics. It will be the first daily paper published in this city.

Heavy Snow Fall in the West.

SISSONS, Cal., Feb. 24.—Yesterday it resumed snowing, and all railroad tracks are blocked. The Northern express has been delayed near Tunnel No. 9, and is many hours over due. On the summit of the road to Fall River there is eight feet of snow.

Bank Failure.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Feb. 24.—Dodridge & Co., bankers, made an assignment yesterday, due to the great stringency of the money market, and to a hard run on the bank. The assets are said to be more than double the liabilities.

Damaged by Floods.

WASHINGTON, Ind , Feb. 24.—Besides doing great damage to buildings and growing grains in Davies county, the tremendous floods inundated several large coal mines near here, and several hundred miners are out of employment.

Palmer Tallies One.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 24.—On the 123 senatorial ballot Palmer received one and the joint assembly adjourned until to morrow.

HIS FIRST DRUNK.

A Young Man Pleads for Mercy in the Police Court and is Released --Court News.

The only prisoner before Mayor Harding this morning was a young man who had been arrested last night for drunkenness. He spent the night behind the bars and when his case was called this morning threw himself upon the mercy of the court and told his story. It was his first drunk, he said. Last night he fell into bad company and during their rounds of the saloons, he drank beer and whisky. The intoxicating stuff affected him worse than it did his companions and it was not long before he became so drunk that they deserted him. The young fellow then fell into the hands of the police and was taken to the station house where he slept off the effects of his night's debauch. He said he had work and was expected to be at his place today, and promised the mayor that if he was released he would not be brought before him again on the same charge. The prisoner told his story with candor, said he was sorry for the shame and disgrace that he had brought upon himself—and the mayor, deeming mercy in his case the best remedy, allowed him to depart without the customary fine or imprisonment.

IN THE COURTS.

Frank Cox was fined $1 and costs in Justice Tancey's court this morning for assault and battery on Frank Thompson, and for the same offense Sherman Cox was fined a similar amount. The latter was also fined for provoke. The parties all reside in Lake township.

Papers have been filed in the county clerk's office declaring Mary Faulkerson, of Cedar Creek township, insane, and asking that she be sent to the asylum at Richmond.

Frank Miller, a boy, was arrested yesterday on an affidavit charging him with jamping on Nickel Plate trains and was fined by Justice Hays $1 and costs. His father stayed the docket. On the same charge, Christopher Schwartz and Henry Schwartz were tried and fined $1 and costs. The former was sent to jail and the docket was stayed in the latter's case.

In Justice Hays' court John Brown sues George Moore on an account for $5, and John M. Flint brings action against L. P. Stapleford for $16.50.

Justice Ryan fined Mattie Clark, Maud Middleton, Ella Martin and Lulu Brown for frequenting a house of prostitution. They stayed the docket.

Justice Tancey fined Fred Kinley, of Lake township, $1 and costs for insulting a woman. Affidavits have been filed against Sherman and Frank Cox, of Huntertown, for assault and battery.

In Justice France's court affidavits were filed against Ed. Fairfield and Louis Juliard for disturbing a religious meeting at Prairie Grove chapel. A motion was being argued this afternoon for a new trial in the case of Effie Jones against William Hadley. The case of the Artificial Ice company against Powers & Barnett, for damages to a buggy will be heard Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Celia Courtney was fined $1 and costs in a provoke case.

The county commissioners were in session yesterday as a board of gravel road directors. Nothing of importance save general routine business was transacted. The clerk of the board submitted a report for the past year as follows: Cash in treasury February 15, 1890, $4,481.41; collected during the year, $1,468 94; total, $5,950 35. Expended during the year, $5,117.67; leaving a balance on hand February 15, 1891 of $832 68 The expenditures are divided among the various roads as follows: Huntington and Liberty Mills, $1 314.68; Parent, $5100 82; Illinois, $1 019 74; Yellow River, $602 48; Simon's, $875 55; Wayne Trace, $534 75; salary of directors, $144.40; salary of clerk, $102.25; stationery, $12; total, $5,117.67.

'Squire France rendered a judgment in favor of B. S. Angell for the possession of real estate. William Bucker was the defendant.

Mary E. Carson was arrested yesterday by Constable Bagby on a charge of getting intoxicated in a public place, preferred against her by her divorced husband, Silas C. Carson. 'Squire Hays fined her $1 and costs.

Articles of incorporation of the Plymouth Congregational church were filed in the county auditor's office yesterday. The officers of the congregation are to be one pastor, four deacons, five trustees, secretary and treasurer. The following trustees are named: Edwin A. Gillett, to serve five years; W. E. Mossman, to serve four years; James Cairns, to serve three years; E. O. Poole, to serve two years; and G. W. Pixley, to serve one year.

The Columbia City Commercial says: "A. R. Jackson, of Churubusco, has for some time past been quite unstrung. As he was going home on one occasion a pistol shot was heard in the dark and a bullet came whizzing uncomfortably close. Mr. Jackson for some time was unconscious of why an attempt upon his life was being made. He read the Kuhns letter, which was published in the Commercial last Thursday, and which caused a great deal of feeling. It then was made clear to him why some one desired his life. As Jackson was one of the principal witnesses in the Mease case the matter is made quite clear. There is no doubt but what Kuhns and Mease have numerous confederates in this section of the country, who would hesitate at nothing would it insure the escape of a partner in crime. A western vigilance committee would not come amiss. In the south white caps rid the country of such desperate characters, here the weak law has to contend with all difficulties in catching them."

WILL BEAR INVESTIGATION.

The Howell Family Subjected to Inhuman Insults.

A subject of considerable gossip on the south side, in which the family of C. A. Howell, of 39 Miner street, appear to be the object of the most unjust persecution, has been presented to the proper authorities and an investigation would undoubtedly place the guilty person or persons in a position that would be unpleasant, to say the least, if an expose were to be made public. The method of offense was begun by sending to Grace, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howell, anonymous letters. The young lady was so distracted at the unaccountable missives that she was stricken with brain fever, from which she is only now convalescing On the heels of this outrage, one of the daily papers was furnished an announcement of the young lady's death, and such tidings were innocently allowed to go forth by the editor. On several occasions crape was hung upon the door of the house of Mr. Howell during the night, and other tricks of a like nature were perpetrated. The Howell family have the respect of the neighborhood in which they reside, Mr. Howell being a hard-working mechanic, and his family having the traits of industry and devotion which are found in the happy and contented home circle; therefore, righteous indignation is aroused. Suspicion points to a certain one who has been deluding the Howell family while in their confidence, by casting a ray of guilt upon really innocent parties. The outrageous acts are undoubtedly the work of somebody who is getting into a difficulty from which extrication will by no means be easy. Prosecutor J. M. Robinson knows something of the case.

A HORRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

A Rescued Miner Tells the Story of His Entombment.

WILKESBARRE, Pa , Feb. 24.—The five miners who had been entombed in the mine at Jamesville for nineteen days, were brought to the surface this morning. All were unconscious, with the exception of Mashiskowiez, who, by the aid of an interpreter, was interviewed by a United Press reporter this morning. He said: "I never gave up hope but that we would all be rescued alive, although my companions did. They recalled similar disasters in which men perished. I said let us pray to God, He will help us; and so He did. For the first eight days we lived on the contents of our dinner pails. We had them pretty well filled with pork, bread and cheese. The first day I said, now as there is hope of being rescued we will ration our food. It was agreed, and we got together in the corner of a breast. The cold was intense, and we had to keep crowded and hug each other to keep warm. At first we could not drink the sulphur water, but necessity compelled us, and in the course of time we liked it. On the ninth day our last food was gone. We were surrounded by water and delirous. I thought I would go on a little exploration expedition. I was mighty lucky. I found a dinner pail. There was not much in it, but what there was we lived on for two days. Then I was almost too weak to go on foraging expeditions. As a last resort we had to kill the rats, and they, like ourselves, were half starved and desperate. They would attack us bodily and we had to fight them off. I killed three or four a day. We had no hesitancy in eating their legs. It was good food. We would certainly have starved had we not had the rats to eat. We resolved to die together rather than eat each other." Dr. Doolittle says the men will all recover their usual health.

BRIDGE BUILDERS.

Prominent Contractors' Agents Before the County Commissioners.

The county commissioners met this afternoon for the purpose of opening bids for new iron bridges to be built in the townships of Adams, Madison, Milan, St. Joe, Washington, Aboite, Pleasant and Springfield. The work will be done next season at a probable cost of $25,000. The following representatives were before the commissioners this afternoon when the bids were opened. James H. Wynkoup, Milwaukee Bridge company; James A. Huston, Smith company, Toledo; J. H. Hilton, Massilon, O., company; W. W. Winslow, Canton, O., company; W. P. Anewalt, Pittsburg company; W. B. Wheelock, Chicago company; John P. Cowing, of the King's Bridge company. Agents of the Indiana Bridge company, of Muncie, and others were also here, but their names could not be obtained.

THE NEW BANK.

The Site Selected and Plans Nearly Completed--The Contract to Be Let Soon.

Vague rumors about a proposed new bank in this city have put the business men and citizens on the qui vive for the facts of the matter. Although the gentlemen who have taken the responsibility to pilot the new enterprise to a safe launch are not ready to be interviewed, (neither the architects, who have the drawings for the new building about completed,) enough information has oked its way out to show what is to be done. It will probably be a national bank, and the actual founder is John W. White, who will be associated with his father, Hon. J. B. White, the ex-congressman, and probably with his brother, Edward White, president of the Allen County Building and Loan association. Who the other incorporators will be cannot be ascertained at this writing. The building will be situated at the northwest corner of Wayne and Clinton streets and will be built of brick and stone, making one of the most magnificent buildings in the city, the dimensions to be 80x100 feet. The site of the proposed new building is now owned by Hon. J. B. White. The plans are being prepared by Wing & Mahurin, but a SENTINEL reporter was not permitted to see them. The new bank will be one of the solid money institutions of the state.

PETER F. BARRAND.

An Old Pioneer of the County Passes to His Eternal Home.

The funeral of Peter F. Barrand, whose death occurred last week at his home, in Washington township, took place last Sunday, and was largely attended. Mr. Barrand was one of the pioneers of the county, and had reached the ripe old age of nearly four score years and ten, having been born in the year 1804 in France. He received a good education, and was a teacher in his native land. In 1836 he emigrated to the United States, and came immediately to Allen county. The trip from Toledo to this place he made in a pirogue upon the river as far as the rapids. When he arrived here Fort Wayne was but little other than a trading station, and the population very small. Mr. Barrand's first employment here was with the Indian chief, J. B. Richardville, and afterwards on the construction of the canal. On the 22d day of November, 1838, he was married to Ann J. Poirson, who was born in France in 1820 and immigrated to this country with her parents in 1834. Her family, after spending a few years in New York state, moved to this county and settled on a farm on the old plank road, four and a half miles from Fort Wayne, where they kept what was called in those times "French Mary's Tavern," a name given it by the early settlers. After their marriage Mr. Barrand commenced farming on the Penn farm and three years later purchased a farm in Washington township on which he resided until his death. In 1888 Mr. and Mrs. Barrand celebrated their golden wedding. Mrs. Barrand and several children survive him, John B. Barrand, of this city being the superintendent of the sash, door and blind factory of Louis Diether & Brother. The deceased was an estimable citizen and left a host of friends to mourn his death.

COMING IN FORCE.

The Detroit Knights of St. John Will Come With Trumpets Blowing.

The Commanderies of the Knights of St. John in various parts of the country are submitting their intention of attending the coming convention of the Knights of St. John in this city next June. As an instance of the way these Commanderies are preparing for the event we reprodnce the following from the Detroit Free Press:

A meeting of delegates of several Commanderies of Knights of St. John was held last night at Ferdinand Kuhn's restaurant, 18 Michigan avenue, for the purpose of considering the action taken at last Sunday's meeting, in favor of forming a local union consisting of the Detroit and Windsor companies.

It was unanimously resolved to meet a committee of the different commanderies in Detroit and Windsor on Friday night next at St. Mary's School hall to discuss the proposed union. A motion that it was the sences of the delegates of the commanderies represented at the meeting that they should take part in a body at the national convention of the order to be held in June next at Fort Wayne, Ind., was carried with a unanimous vote. A committee of one from each of the companies was appointed to secure railroad fare and make the necessary arrangements for the trip. At the convention at Columbus last year Detroit carried off all the honors in the parade in connection with the gathering. It is believed that a better showing will be made by the local knights at Fort Wayne. The companies above named which have taken the initial steps for the trip, will drill regularly for the event and will undoubtedly uphold the reputation of the Detroit knights at the convention parade, which promises to be the largest ever held in the history of the organization.

LET the toll roads be struck a death blow. They ought to go.

IS THIS the weather predicted a few weeks ago by the little ground hog?

WASHINGTON'S birthday was more generally observed this year than it has been for many years past.

IN his sermon at the Second Presbyterian church last Sunday Rev. J. L. Leeper said one of the chiefest sins of to-day was unbelief in religion.

THOMAS W. KEENE, the tragedian, was attacked at Vicksburg, Miss., Saturday with acute neuralgia and nervous prostration. He has been compelled to cancel all of his southern engagements.

WHEN congress adjourns next week many of the present members will retire. Numerous farewell dinners and receptions are being given to the retiring members, many of whom have been in public service for years.

THE Farmer's alliance members of the Illinois legislature state that their constituents are perfectly satisfied with their course, and want them to continue the dead-lock. If they keep it up, when will Illinois choose her senator?

THE Fort Wayne Academy of Medicine, it is said, will adopt measures which will eventually prevent the insertion of advertising matter in the papers by physicians who are members of the academy. What new streak has seized the doctors? Oh well, guess the newspapers will have to stand it.

A MEMBER of a prominent firm of Boston which imports from the Argentine republic many goods yearly, including large quantities of carpet, wool and ostrich feathers—the cheapest sort made into feather dusters—speaking of the effect of the McKinley act, said that his firm has put on to the former price for carpet wool the entire amount of the recent advance under the McKinley act, and a trifle more. The total advance on this grade of wool was three cents and a fraction a pound, and the importers have been able to get about four cents more, solely on account of the tariff, of course, and is not a matter peculiar to this firm alone. On the other hand, the duty on ostrich feathers was reduced from twenty-five to ten per cent. Immediately the price to purchasers in this country fell the whole amount of the duty. This is the general law, this importer states, regarding articles that are not produced in this country, but are imported wholly from abroad.

A MOST interesting political reminiscence was given by Senator McDonald, of Indiana, in an interview, in Washington, a few days ago. He remarked that the tariff question is an evidence how history repeats itself. He said that the first political speech he ever made was at his old home in Crawfordsville, Indiana. That was forty years ago and President Polk was the candidate upon a tariff for revenue reform, substantially the same as that of the democratic party during the last presidential campain. During the Cleveland-Harrison campaign Mr. McDonald made his last speech in Crawfordsville, and the chairman said he did not believe an instance could be shown in our history of a man making two speeches for a presidential candidate forty-four years apart and advocating substantially the same issues. Mr. McDonald says: "The first message of President Polk was substantially the same as the tariff reform message of President Cleveland, and it brought about the enactment of the tariff of 1846."

THE LEGISLATURE.

The general taxation bill was up in the house yesterday. Mr. Gent offered a resolution that it was the sense of the committee that the bill should be re-committed, with instructions to amend it so as to provide for the collection of taxes by counties, and the distribution thereof in the way that is provided for by the present law; in other words to strike out the section providing that taxes on railroads should be paid into the state and county treasuries. In support of this, he said that the bill, if passed, would relieve from state taxation every part of railroad property in the state. It provided for unequal taxation, and it contained many provisions that were unjust.

Mr. Oppenheim defended the bill, saying that it proposed to follow the example of other progressive states, such as Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Vermont and others, which raised state revenues by taxation of railroads. In this state there was, under the present assessment, railroad property amounting to $70,000,000. A twenty cent levy on this would give a revenue of $1,400,000 a year, which, added to the $400,000 from other sources, would give the state an annual revenue of $1,800,000, or about $100,000 less than was needed. But these railroads have never been assessed one fourth the value of their property, and it was believed that under this proposed law they would be assessed higher. In his judgment, after the first assessment, the railroads would have to pay from $2,000,000 to $2,200,000 a year, which would permit the payment of all expenses and give the state a sinking fund of about $300,000 a year to apply on her debt. If this bill was not passed, it would be necessary, to raise the adequate revenue, to increase the tax levy for state purposes from twelve to eighteen or twenty cents. This bill did not propose to increase taxation one cent, but put the burden upon the railroads. Public sentiment under it would compel the officers in charge to raise the assess ment of railroad property to something like its real value, and the revenues would be correspondingly increased. The rate of taxing railroads, he thought, should be increased over twenty cents on the $100 of valuation. Under the provisions of this bill if it did not operate as its framers felt sure it would, his own county (Allen) would lose annually $10,000, but he was willing to take the risk of that. He expected, however, that under the bill the state would derive $80,000 a year from railroad taxation in Allen county alone.

The famous cigarette bill came up in the senate and the vote to reconsider it was laid on the table.

Both branches of the legislature expect to take up the apportionment bill this week. When agreed upon by the caucus they will be worked through in a very short time. The democratic majority is so large in both houses as to be able to easily override any dilatory measures by the republicans.

The legislature will adjourn sine die, by constitutional limitation, two weeks from yesterday. In the house 630 bills have been introduced and ninety-two passed. In the senate 366 have been introduced and 101 passed. Those that have become laws are unimportant in character, while the most important ones are yet to be considered. The house will probably get through with the taxation and fee and salary bills by the middle of the week, and send them to the senate. The general and specific appropriation bills will be reported from the committee on ways and means today, and it is hoped to get through with them by the end of the week. The apportionment bills will also be considered this week.

PAVEMENT TALK.

A Resolution for Paving Lafayette Street--Berry Street Petitions.

Councilman Scheid will to-night introduce a resolution at the regular meeting of the council for a new cedar block pavement on Lafayette street from the railroad to DeWald street. A second section to the resolution will also be introduced to pave the same thoroughfare from Wayne street to the railroad. This is similar to the resolution introduced by Councilman Kenscill a year ago.

At the meeting to-night the Berry street pavement matter will also come up, and petitions will be presented by both the advocates of brick and asphalt.

CELEBRATION AT BALDINSVILLE IN HONOR OF THE ATLANTIC CABLE.

BALDINSVILLE, INJIANNY, Sep. the onct, 18&58.—I was summund home from Cinsinnaty quite suddin by a lettur from the Supervizers of Baldinsville, sayin as how grate things was on the Tappis in that air town in refferunse to sellebratin the compleshun of the Sub-Mershine Tellegraph & axin me to be Pressunt. Lockin up my Kangaroo and wax wurks in a sekure stile I took my departer for Baldinsville—"my own, my native lan," which I gut intwo at early kandle litin on the follerin night & just as the sellerbrashun and illumernashun ware commensin.

Baldinsville was trooly in a blaze of glory. The Tavern was lit up with taller kandles all over & a grate bon fire was burnin in frunt thareof. A Transpirancy was tied onto the sine post with the follerin wurds—"Giv us Liberty or Deth." Old Tompkinsis grosery was illumernated with 5 tin lantuns and the follerin Transpirancy was in the winder—"The Sub-Mershine Tellergraph & the Baldinsville and Stonefield Plank Road—the 2 grate eventz of the 19th centerry—may intestines strife never mar their grandjure." Simpkinsis shoe shop was all ablaze with kandles and lantuns.

A American Eagle was painted onto a flag in a winder—also these words, viz. —"The Coustitooshun must be Presarved." The Skool house was lited up in grate stile and the winders was filld with mottoes amung which I notised the follerin—"Trooth smashed to erth shall rise agin—YOU CAN'T STOP HER." "The Boy stood on the Burnin Deck whense awl but him had Fled." "Prokrastinashun is the 'heaf of Time." "Be virtoous & you will be Happy." "Intemperunse has cawsed a heap of trubble—shun the Bole," an the follerin sentiment written by the skool master, who graduated at Hudson Kollige: "Baldinsville sends greetin to Her Magisty the Queen, & hopes all hard feelins which has heretofore previs bin felt between the Supervizers of Baldinsville and the British Parlimunt, if such there has been, may now be forever wiped frum our Escutchens. Baldinsville this night rejoises over the glorious event which sementz 2 grate nashuns onto one anuther by means of a elecktric wire under the roarin billers of the Nasty Deep. QUOSQUE TANTRUM, A BUTTER, CATERLINY, PATENT NOSTRUM!"

Squire Smith's house was lited up regardlis of expense. His little sun William Henry stood upon the roof firin orf crackers. The old 'Squire hisself was dressed up in soljer clothes and stood on his door step, pintin his sword sollumly to a American flag which was suspendid on top of a pole in frunt of his house. Frequently he wood take orf his cocked hat & wave it round in a impressive stile. His oldest darter Miss Isabeller Smith, who has just cum home from the Perkinsville Female Instertoot, appeared at the frunt winder in the West room as the goddis of liberty, & sung "I see them on their windin way." Booteus 1, sed I to myself, you air a angil & nothin shorter. N. Boneparte Smith, the 'Squire's oldest sun, drest hisself up as Venus the God of Wars and red the Decleration of Inderpendunse from the left chambir winder.

The 'Squire's wife didn't jine in the festiverties. She sed it was the tarnnlest nousense she ever seed. Sed she to the 'Squire, "Cum into the house and go to bed you old fool, you. Tomorrer you'll be goin round half-ded with the rumertism & won't gin us a minit's peace till you get well." Sez the 'Squire, "Betsy, you little appresiate the importance of the event which I this night commemorate." Sez she, "Commemorate a cat's tail—cum into the house this instant, you pesky old critter." "Betsy," sez the 'Squire, wavin his sword, "retire." This made her just as mad as she could stick. She retired, but cum out agin putty quick with a panfull of Bilin hot water which she throwed all over the Squire, & Surs, you wood have split your sides larfin to see the old man jump up and holler & run into the house.

Doctor Hutchinsis offiss was likewise lited up and a Transpirancy on which was painted the Queen in the act of drinkin sum of "Hutchinsis invigorater," was stuck into one of the winders. The Baldinsville Bugle of Liberty noospaper offiss was also illumernated, & the follerin mottoes stuck out—"The Press is the Arkermejian leaver which moves the world." "Vote Early." "Buckle on your Armer." "Now is the time to Subscribe." "Franklin, Morse & Field." "Terms $1.50 a year—liberal reducshuns to clubs." In short the villige of Baldinsville was in a perfect fewroar. I never seed so many peple thar befour in my born days. Ie not attemp to describe the scens of that grate night. Wurds wood fale me ef I shood try to do it. I shall stop here a few periods and enjoy my "Oatem cum dig the tates," as our skool master observes, in the buzzum of my famerly, & shall then resume the show bisnis, which I've bin into twenty-two (22) years and six (6) months.

AMONG THE SPIRITS.

My naburs is mourn harf crazy on the new-fangled idear about Sperrets. Sperretooul Sircles is held nitely & 4 or 5 long hared fellers has settled here and gone into the Sperret biznis excloosively. A atemt was made to git Mrs. A. Ward to embark into the Sperret biznis but the atemt faled. 1 of the long hared fellers told her she was a ethereal creeter & wood make a sweet mejium, whareupon she attact him with a mop handle and drove him out of the house. I will hear obsarve that Mrs. Ward is a invalerable womun—the partner of my goys & the shairer of my sorrers. In my absunse she watchis my interests & things with a Eagle Eye & when I return she welcums me in afectionate stile. Trooly it is with us as it was with Mr. & Mrs. INGOMER in the Play, to whit,—

2 soles with but a single thawt
2 harts which beet as 1.

My naburs injooced me to attend a Sperretooul Sircle at Squire Smith's. When I arrove I found the east room chock full includin all the old maids in the villige & the long hared feller a4said. When I went in I was salootid with "here cums the benited man"—"hear cums the hory-heded unbeleever"—"here cums the skoffer at trooth," etsettery, etsettery.

Sez I, "my frens, it's troo I'm hear, & now bring on your Sperrets."

1 of the long hared fellers riz up and sed he would state a few remarks. He sed man was a critter of intelleck & was movin on to a Gole. Sum men had bigger intellecks than other men had and they wood git to the Gole the soonerest. Sum men were beests & wood never git into the Gole at all. He sed the Erth was material but man was immaterial, and hens was different from the Erth. The Erth, continnered the speaker, resolves round on its own axeltree once in 24 hours, but as man haint gut no axeltree he can't resolve. He sed the ethereal essunce of the koordinate branchis of superhuman natur becum mettymorfussed as man progrest in harmonial coexistunce & eventooally anty humanized theirselves & turned into reglar sperretuellers. [This was versifferusly applauded by the cumpany, and as I make it a pint to get along as pleasant as possible, I sung out, "bully for you, old boy."]

The cumpany then drew round the table and the Sircle kommenst to go it. They axed me if there was anybody in the Sperret land which I wood like to convarse with. I sed if Bill Tompkins, who was onct my partner in the show biznis, was sober, I should like to convarse with him a few periods.

"Is the Sperret of William Tompkins present?" sed 1 of the long hared chaps, and there was three knox on the table.

Sez I, "William, how goes it, Old Sweetness?"

"Pretty ruff, old hoss," he replide.

"Air you in the show bizniz, William?" sed I.

He sed he was. He sed he & John Bunyan was travelin with a side show in connection with Shakspere, Jonson & Co.'s Circus. He sed old Bun (meanin Mr. Bunyan,) stired up the animils & ground the organ while he tended door. Occashunally Mr. Bunyan sung a comic song. The Circus was doin midlin well. Bill Shakspeer had made a grate hit with old Bob Ridley, and Ben Jonson was delitin the peple with his trooly grate ax of hossmanship without saddul or bridal.

Sez I, "William, my luvly friend, can you pay me that 13 dollars you owe me?" He sed no with one of the most tremenjis knox I ever experiunsed.

The Sircle sed he had gone. "Air you gone, William?" I axed. "Raythur," he replide, and I knowd it was no use to pursoo the subjeck furder.

I then called fur my farther.

"How's things, daddy?"

"Middlin, my son, middlin."

"Ain't you proud of your orfurn boy?"

"Scacely."

"Why not, my parient?"

"Becawz you hav gone to writin for the noospapers, my son. Bimeby you'll lose all your character for trooth and verrasserty. When I helpt you into the show biznis I told you to diguerfy that there profeshun. Litteratoor is low."

He also statid that he was doin midlin well in the peanut biznis & liked it putty well, tho' the climit was rather warm.

When the Sircle stopt thay axed me what I thawt of it.

Sez I, "My frens, I've bin into the show biznis now goin on 23 years. Theres a artikil in the Constitooshun of the United States which sez in effect that everybody may think just as he darn pleazes, & them is my sentiments to a hare. You dowtlis beleeve this Sperret doctrin while I think it is a little mixt. Just as soon as a man becums a reglar out & out Sperret rapper he leeves orf workin, lets his hare grow all over his fase & commensis spungin his livin out of other peple. He eats all the dickshunaries he can find & goze round chock full of big words, scarin the wimmin folks & little children & destroyin the piece of mind of evry famerle he enters. He don't do nobody no good & is a cuss to society & a pirit on honest peple's corn beef barrils. Admittin all you say abowt the doctrin to be troo, I must say the reglar perfessional Sperrit rappers—them as makes a biznis on it—air abowt the most ornery set of cusses I ever enkountered in my life. So sayin I put on my surtoot and went home.

Respectfully Yures,

ARTEMUS WARD.

Great Saving

results from cleanliness and SAPOLIO:

It is a solid cake of scouring soap.

Try it in your next house-cleaning and be happy.

Looking out over the many homes of this country, we see thousands of women wearing away their lives in household drudgery that might be materially lessened by the use of a few cakes of SAPOLIO. If an hour is saved each time a cake is used, if one less wrinkle gathers upon the face because the toil is lightened, she must be a foolish woman who would hesitate to make the experiment, and he a churlish husband who would grudge the few cents which it costs.

The Portrait of a Lady

Painted on paper by the pen of such a novelist as Henry James will do very well, but the real portrait of a real lady is a very different affair. Has she pimples on her face, or blotches? Is her complexion sallow? If so, the conscientious artist in this realistic age will have to put them all down. The lady's remedy for her pimples, blotches and sallowness is S.S.S. the great vegetable remedy for the blood. There can be no beauty where there is no health, whereas the most commonplace features are rendered piquant and interesting by a beautiful complexion S.S.S. restores strength and vigor to the system, gives tone to the digestive organs, and cures all nervous disorders. The potency of this wonderful blood medicine is unquestionable, and yet, powerful as it is, it may be taken by the feeblest child and by the most delicate female. It has no rival in the wide field which it covers. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases Mailed Free.

Texas farmers have an enormous home market as well as

Twelve Thousand Miles of Railroad and Ocean Outlet for their surplus crop. Here farmers are able to work out of doors every day in the year, and stock run on grass from January to January. Many farmers in Kansas and in the north-west are selling whatever equity they have in their farms, buying the cheap lands of Texas. And in many instances clearing the price of the land from their first years crops. The latest census shows that few farmers in Texas have their farms mortgaged. THE LUMBER TRADE.

Unusual Activity in the Scramble for Choice Lots--Shops and Railroad News.

"The consumer or purchaser of our native lumber who does'nt get a 'hustle' on himself, will get left this year," remarked a dealer this morning. "This has been a severe winter on mill men, and yards that should be overflowing with logs are nearly empty. Buyers are aware of this fact, and are anxiously inquiring into the matter a month or six weeks in advance of former seasons. Considerable activity in the lumber trade has recently sprung up, and particularly in dry lumber. Unless I am greatly mistaken, two months hence will witness one of the most exciting scrambles for certain kinds of lumber ever known in the history of Fort Wayne. All the manufacturers have men out buying and contracting for all the lumber they can get, anticipating a rise in the price later in the season. This state of affairs is due to the mild winter and muddy roads. There are logs, and plenty of them. in the woods, but they will, in all probability, remain there until May or June, when the roads will become solid enough to allow them to be hauled on wagons."

WON SUCCESS ON HIS OWN MERITS.

Thomas Noonan, who will be the manager of the new Baltimore and Ohio and Big Four Fast freight line, with headquarters at Indianapolis, is an example of what an American boy of pluck and energy can do for himself in this big and busy world, for he has won his way to success upon his own merits. He commenced life as a poor boy, and when quite young met with an accident by which he lost one of his hands. When the writer of this first knew Mr. Noonan, then a youth of seventeen years of age, he was peddling candy by wagon for a confectionery firm at Tiffin, Ohio. He afterwards took a position as clerk with the firm and on its failure entered the office of a railroad at Tiffin as messenger. Step by step he worked his way up and in a few years became traveling freight agent of the Baltimore and Ohio road. He was advanced to district freight agent and subsequently took a position at Indianapolis as general manager of the Baltimore and Ohio and Kankakee Freight Line in that city and in a few years was made assistant general freight agent of the Big Four at Chicago and now in a few weeks will take the general management of the new Baltimore and Ohio and Big Four Fast Freight Line at Indianapolis, a position of responsibility and one in which he will command a big salary. Mr. Noonan is about forty three years of age, a man of pleasant address and sterling abilities and one who has won success in railroad life because he deserved it. His motto from early youth was to always do his level best for his employer, be honest and sober and "stick to business," and his tactics won. They will bring success to any young man who sticks to them.

LOCAL GOSSIP.

James Kelley, of the Pittsburg paint shops, is sick.

Louis Zanner, machinist at the Bass works, is still sick with lung fever.

F. Scheib, son of J. Scheib, has gone to Chicago to spend a few weeks with his sister.

Pat Carl, an apprentice in the Bass works, has returned to work after a severe illness.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company shipped a boiler and a 16x40 engine to Canton, O., to-day.

The Fleming Manufacturing company shipped a car load of road scrapers to southern Illinois last evening.

John and Joseph Schram, of Wallace street, are at Chicago, where they will make their home in the future.

Joseph Weideman, a helper in the Pittsburg machine shops, who was sick for some time, is again working.

L. Dobler, hostler at the Pittsburg round house, is still sick with la grippe, which threatens to run into lung fever.

George Waters has resigned his position in the machine shop of the Bass works, and accepted a similar one at Toledo.

Fred Meyers, foreman of the skein department of the Bass works, is still absent from the shops on account of sickness.

The car casting department of the Bass works, Frank Fink, foreman, is closed to-day to allow some repairs on the boiler.

The patrons of the Pennsylvania company at Madison, Ind., threaten to boycott the road for removing the telephone from the freight station. As the J., M. & I., or the Pennsylvania line, is the only road running into Madison, the boycott cannot be of a very serious nature.

H. C. Werner, a Pittsburg fireman, was unable to take his run this morning on account of a lame back. He is not confined to bed.

Robert Reiniche, formerly of the Olds Wagon works, has gone to Cleveland, O., to accept a position in a factory in that city.

Frank Kehler, fireman on a switch engine at Stony Island, spent Sunday in the city with his brother, D. B. Kehler, of Spy Run avenue.

Rice Harper, the originator and projector of the Lake Shore road, died at Sandusky on Friday night. He was eighty eight years old.

Harmon Hirsche, a helper in the Bass machine shop, had a finger mashed yesterday, in consequence of which he will take a few days' lay-off.

D. A. Haman, agent at Oakwood, O., for the Fleming Manufacturing company, was in the city last evening making a contract for the season.

J. Welschmidt, who was sick for three weeks, returned to work at the Pittsburg shops this morning. He is employed in the car department.

None of the Chicago lines west are selling 1,000 mile tickets for less than $25, while all of the lines centering in Indianapolis are selling them at $20.

Thomas Rippen, line repairer of the Lansing division of the Lake Shore, and T. O. Dormus, road foreman of the same line, were in the city last evening.

Harry Hayes has finished the work of setting an engine for the Van Wert Furniture company, and returned to this city. He is employed at the Bass works.

T. Gerke and John Cox, both sick for a week or two, have returned to work in the Pittsburg shops. Mr. Gerke has been transferred from the car shop to the tin shop.

E. E. Genn, rate clerk for the Lake Shore at Toledo, spent Sunday with friends in the city. Mr. Genn was formerly chief clerk in Agent E. S. Philley's office.

To day another new steam hammer was moved into the new blacksmith shops of the Bass works. The company expect to be working in the new shop in two or three weeks.

Edward Arnes, Frank Reiniche and William Oregg, have gone to Jackson, Mich., to work for the American Wheel company. They formerly held positions at the Olds Wagon works in this city.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company are placing the new boiler in the factory of Rhinesmith & Simonson today. It is intended to furnish steam for the new addition of the door and sash factory.

The clerks in the Indianapolis offices are again agitating the organization of an association. The newly-organized association at Toledo has 162 members, and has money in its treasury to meet all ordinary expenses of the year.

Six couple, Pittsburg machinists and their wives, dropped in unexpectedly upon Miss Mary Snelger, of Barr street, last evening, and presented her with a handsome life-sized picture of a very dear friend. The affair was a very pleasant one to all concerned.

Yesterday orders for folding beds were received by the Fort Wayne Furniture company from Texas, New Jersey, New York and Rhode Island. The company are now running their works thirteen hours a day and adding new men to their force nearly every week.

The lines in the Southwestern Traffic Association are now beginning to feel last year's shortage in crops. The report of Chairman Midgely shows that in January, 1891, the nine principal roads in the association hauled eastward 6 800 cars, against 17,400 in January 1890, and the exhibit for February bids fair to be even worse.

Twenty-two young men, members of the railroad reading room, called at the home of Thomas Potter, 45 Baker street, last evening and presented him with two handsomely bound books. The affair was a complete surprise to the gentleman. Mr. Potter is a carpenter in the road department of the Pittsburg and is a favorite with the patrons of the reading room, who adopted this method of expressing their esteem.

Yesterday the river caused the Fort Wayne Furniture company some anxiety. The water persisted in seeping through the levee and getting into the basement of the factory. At the waist factory all perishable goods were taken out of the ground floor and the furniture company was ready to move up one story on short notice should the levee break. There is no immediate danger of this, however, as the waters are not rising any more.

The Best Result.

Every ingredient employed in producing Hood's Sarsaparilla is strictly pure, and is the best of its kind it is possible to buy. All the roots and herbs are carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. So that from the time of purchase until Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared, everything is carefully watched with a view to attaining the best result. Why don't you try it?

BASE BALL GOSSIP.

No Contract Yet With Guy Hecker--What Buckenberger is Doing.

The following gossip is taken from the St. Louis Sporting News:

Guy Hecker is on the anxious seat. He expected, a month ago, to be appointed a league umpire, but has about given up hope. He has received offers from two minor league clubs—Bradford, Pa., and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Guy Hecker does not seem to have much chance of a league umpireship Nick Young says "Heck" ought to play ball another season or so.

Guy Hecker, of last years' Pittsburg league team, has signed with Fort Wayne, of the Indiana league. He is to be manager of the team and has full power to select the men. Jake Aydelotte, who has been manager up to date, was also released, as were also all the players he had signed. This is a big card for Fort Wayne and the Indiana league. O'Rourke and Taylor have also been signed.

There are but two clubs who have elected their officers and are ready for business and they are Fort Wayne and Anderson. It seems that the rest are very slow about it. Kokomo has started out a soliciting committee for subscriptions. They expect to raise $3,000 to start with. Our friend Joe Hennings is pushing it in Kokomo. There are Lafayette, Richmond, Muncie and Marion yet to hear from.

Jake Aydellotte, who was to manage the Fort Wayne team, secured the signatures of Martin, Bennett, McGinnis and Oates, and was after Gayle, the "phenom" pitcher (?).

Guy Hecker has received an offer from Fort Wayne to manage the team of that enterprising town. The salary promised is a very liberal one. Fort Wayne is again a member of the Indiana State League. Last year it finished fourth in the race under the management of Milt Scott, the old Allegheny first baseman. Among the Fort Wayne players last season were several who had worn Allegheny uniforms. Besides Milt Scott there were pitchers Dunning and Gray (the latter of six fingers and six toes fame), and Catcher Howard Brandenburg, who joined the Fort Waynes after the disbandment of the Blufftons. The Indiana State League this season will consist of Fort Wayne, Lafayette, Anderson, Kokomo, Marion, Peru, Richmond and Muncie. Hecker is paying no attention to the offer at present, as he wants to know how he stands with regard to an appointment on the umpire staff of the League. He has President Young's promise, and expects to hear from him very soon.

A special from Peru says: "Bob Berryhill will without doubt manage the Peru team of 1891. There is no better all round ball player in this league than Bob. He is also good with the stick. The report that he had signed with the Fon du Lac, Wis., team is denied by him in a letter to a friend here."

WHAT BUCKENBERGER IS DOING.

Grand Rapids and Bay City are very anxious to have a ball club the coming season. They have written Manager Buckenberger regarding the prospects of a club in Detroit. They propose to take in Toledo, Indianapolis, Saginaw, and two other cities. I am afraid that it would be hard work to organize a club here for such a league. Detroit will stand nothing but an Association or National League club. Still, Buckenberger is willing to assist Grand Rapids and Bay City to organize such a league and endeavor to work up the interest here. Manager Buckenberger said he would decide what he intended doing next season in a few days. He is negotiating with several clubs and will probably come to an agreement with one of them shortly.

FRUIT HOUSE BULLETIN FOR 1891.

In consequence of the reduction of the Sugar Duties there has been a decline of half cent to one cent per pound. When the law goes into full operation on the 1st of April there will no doubt be a further reduction. At present New Orleans sugar is extremely low, a nice light brown New Orleans sugar selling at 5c. lb.

Coffee A. Standard, 6½c. Choice Extra C., 6c. Good New Orleans 5c. Crushed and Powdered, 7c. Granulated, Standard Quality, 7c.

COFFEE, COFFEE—Green and Roasted Java, Mocha and Rio.

The Coffee market is still held firmly by the speculating combination who has controlled it the last two years, and since our last circular there has been little change in prices, yet a large decline is looked for. In consequence of large receipts of Coffee at Rio and Santos. At present we have reduced the price on Rio one cent per pound.

Best Rio Coffee, 22c. lb. Roasted Rio, 25c. lb. Old Govt. Java, 28c. lb. Roasted Java, 33c. lb. Roasted Mocha, 35c. lb. Sampson Coffee in 1lb Packages, 26c. Levering's Coffee, 26c. lb.

The Tea market all grades of Teas, both Chinese and Japanese remain at former prices, but they are extremely low when the high price of Coffee is considered, and it is safe to say the high price of coffee has induced a large consumption of Tea, as the price of a pound of 20c. Tea is no more than a pound of coffee and it will go twice as far. We sell a most excellent Tea at 20c. lb, and the very best at 50c. lb. Our motto in Teas is purchasing in large quantities from first hands and sell direct to our customers, thereby saving them the profits of the Jobber, Speculator and Wholesale Dealers, which is at least 15c. We have a package Tea in 1lb Packages we sell at 15c.

Extra Young Hyson Tea, 20c.; good, 30c. Very best Young Hyson in market, 50c. lb. Gunpowder Tea, extra, 30c, best, 50c lb. Oolong or Black Tea, good quality, 25c.; best, 50c. lb. Imperial Tea, excellent quality, 30c; best, 50c lb. English Breakfast, extra fine, 30c.; best, 50c. lb. Japan Tea, very fine, 30c; best, 50c lb.

CALIFORNIA FRUITS, CANNED AND DRIED.

Our home market on fruits is so bare this season that California fruits are in great demand. Besides, they are the most desirable goods. Our California goods we purchased before the advance, hence our customers will have the advantage.

California 3 lb can Peaches, 25c can; California 3 lb can Pears, 25c can, California Green Gages, 3 lb. cans, 15c can; California Egg Plums, 3 lb. can, 20c can; California 3 lb cans, Apricots, 20c can; Dried California Nectarines, Peeled Peaches, Silver Prunes, California Dried Apricots, 17, 20 and 35c. lb.

OILS—All Kinds Reduced 10c Gallon.

Machine Oil, Linseed Oil and Lard Oil—Choice Yellow Machine Oil, 20c and 30c gallon; Neats Foot Oil, 70c gallon; Fish Oil, 60c gallon; Lard Oil, 60c gallon; Linseed Oil, 75c gallon; Castor Oil, $1.50 gallon.

Maple Syrup, Golden Drips and New Orleans Molasses Reduced.

Extra Golden Drip, 40c gallon; New Orleans, 30c; best, 40c. Choice Maple Syrup, 60c gallon; Sorghum, 45c gallon.

FISH—SALT WATER AND LAKE FISH.

White Fish, Trout, Mackerel and Labrador Herring; also, Codfish and Smoked Halibut. Family White Fish kits, 55c; No. 1 White Fish kits, 90c; Mackerel in kits, best, $1.40. Herring, 1c each; Holland Herring, kegs $1.00; Scotch Herring, kegs $1.20.

PLUG TOBACCO AND SMOKING TOBACCO 2c. LOWER.

The tax of 2c per pound is taken of all kinds of Tobacco and took effect January 1st, hence we have reduced all our grades in proportion 2c. per pound.

Horse Shoe, 43c.; J. T., 36c. Fine Cut, 28c.; choice, 48c.; best, in market, 73c. Smoking Tobacco, 15c.; extra, 18c.; Durham Smoking, 43c. Cigars; we have many grades ranging from 50c., 80c., $1.00 and $1.25 per box.

Wines and Liquors for Medical Purposes.

Sweet Catawba, $1.00 gallon; Port, $1.25; Blackberry, $1.25; Angelica and Muscatel, $1.25; Kuemmel, $1.50; Bourbon Liquor, $1.00; 2-year, $1.25; 3-year, $1.40; Monongahela, $1.75; Old '76, $2 50. Wines and Liquors in Bottles, 25c., 40c. and 50c. Pure Alcohol, full proof, $2.50 per gal.

Since moving to our new store our trade has increased beyond our expectations. This is accounted for by the fact that we have more room to display our goods and attend to the wants of our customers.

CALIFORNIA EXCURSIONS,

Combining Comfort, Economy and Respectability.

The Santa Fe route, realizing the fact that there is a demand for a service to California and the Pacific Coast which will secure to the traveler even a greater degree of comfort than is given on the regular trains, has organized a series of special Santa Fe route excursions on regular dates between Chicago, Kansas City and all California points.

The most successful and satisfactory low rate excursions ever run to California have been over the Santa Fe route, and this company, with its own line from Chicago to California, smooth track and fine equipment will make these excursion smore popular and successful than ever.

The excursions leave Chicago every Thursday at 7:50 p.m. from the Dearborn station of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, and leave Kansas City every Friday at 10:45 a. m. and 11 a. m. They are personally conducted by salaried excursion agents of the Santa Fe route, who accompany the parties to destination, and give personal attention to the comfort of passengers, especially aged persons, ladies and children without escort.

Pullman Tourist Sleeping Cars ear used in these excursions, and run through from Chicago and Kansas City without change to California. These cars are furnished with all necessary articles of comfort and convenience, as described elsewhere herein. A colored porter is assigned to each car, under the direction of the regular Pullman conductor. These arrangements give to the passenger every attention obtainable on first-class transportation.

Parties joining the excursions should write to H. A. Bonn, passenger agent, Rialto building, Chicago, who will give necessary information and assistance to passengers regarding tickets, baggage, location in sleeper, etc. Ticket office 212 Clark street, Chicago, corner of Adams street.

Will R. Buckles, the young artist for J. H. Brimmer, attended a fashionable soiree at Columbia City last evening. It was one of the most elegant affairs of the kind yet given in the Whitley county seat.

The Union Central Insurance company will be operating in the new offices in the new bank building this week. Among the latest solicitors who have been added to the force are L. F. Geiger, J. E. Ohnhouse and Mr. Holt.

The general store of Barney Tibbets, of New Haven, was entered by burglars last Saturday night and about $200 in cash and goods were taken. The entrance was effected by cutting the glass in the door and apparently was out from the inside. There is no clue to the burglars.

Another of those double numbers which the publishers of "The Youth's Companion" seem to delight in offering as a pleasant surprise to its readers comes to us this week. A careful reading of one of these special numbers makes it easy to understand why this favorite paper rarely loses an old friend and gains so many thousands of new admirers every year.

At 2 o'clock to day occurred the funeral of one of Bluffton's oldest and most respected citizens, Nelson Kellogg, sr., aged eighty-six years. The deceased came to Bluffton about the time that city was chosen as the county-seat of Wells county, and has lived there continuously since that date. During the war he published the first republican paper in that county, called the People's Press, which is now the Chronicle. Mrs. Alexander Staub, of this city, is a grand-daughter of the deceased, and was at his bedside at the time of his death. Mr. Staub left this morning for Bluffton.

Last evening among the passengers from this city, on No. 9 train going west on the Fort Wayne road, were three prominent lumbermen, Messrs. W. E. Mossman, J. Colter and A. B. Nickey, who are, at this writing, on their way from Chicago to New Orleans, where they will remain only a few days before their departure for old Mexico to purchase timber. Their trip, as detailed in THE SENTINEL a few days ago, will include Vera Cruz and other important places and they will also penetrate farther south, perhaps into Central America. In the region these gentlemen go is to be found a superior quality of [illegible] timber; across the ocean give a trip. They will be absent six weeks and perhaps two months.

G. D. Curtis, of Richmond, Ind., is in the city.

H. A. Kerr, of Lagrange, is in the city on business.

Louis Peltier, the veteran undertaker, is dangerously ill.

Broadway revivals continue with great interest. Subject to night, "The Cry of the Troubled Soul, Oh, that I Knew Where I Might Find God." Remember the place, Shroeder hall, corner of Washington and Broadway.

Pastor Northrop says that those who would like a personal conversation with him on religious matters, may find him in his church study any afternoon from 2 o'clock to 5. A face to face talk with a specialist on "What shall I do to be saved?" he says, will sometimes do more good than a dozen sermons.

A literary and musical treat was given at the Taylor university last evening in a complimentary entertainment to Mrs. R. Steadman McCann, the elocutionist. Among the principal numbers were recitations by Mrs. McCann, solos by Miss Rogall, of Chicago, and S. R. Taylor; also a song and recitation by Misses Mamie and Hattie Stemen.

The evangelistic services at the Tabernacle are growing in interest and numbers. There are from ten to twenty inquirers every night and a good many have become Christians. Pastor Northrop talks for twenty minutes each evening and closes every service before 9 o'clock. Gospel meetings this week Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Kittie Liveleberger, of 47 North Calhoun street, was pleasantly and profitably surprised last evening by a number of her little friends, who called to celebrate her sixth birthday. They spent the hours in plays and games after which luncheon was served. Those entertained by the little hostess were: Mable Coverdale, Minnie Horn, Lucy Algenier, Clara Stockman, Jennie Rohrer, May Collins and Carrie Fremont.

Samuel McKibben, a prominent contractor of Milford, Ind., near Warsaw, was run down and killed last evening about 7:40 o'clock by an engine on the Cincinnati, Wabash and Michigan railroad at this place, where he had been on business. Both legs and one arm were cut off, causing instant death. He was intoxicated, and after missing a passenger train that started to walk down the track. He was unmarried and about forty-five years old.

D. Welch, of Roanoke, is in the city on business.

The Lake Shore pay car arrived in the city to-day.

F. B. Hull, of Adrian, Mich., is in the city to see relatives.

Col. I. B. McDonald, of Columbia City, is in the city to day.

It is rumored that a brewery will be built near the old Esmond dam.

F. Biel, of Keley's Island, Ohio, the great wine making place, is in the city.

The auditors of the Lake Shore and Lake Erie and Western railroads are in the city to check up the accounts of Agent E. S. Philley.

The infant daughter of M. W. Lauer, of 520 East Wayne street, died yesterday. Funeral at the Cathedral at 9 o'clock this morning.

Susannah Miller, of Monroeville, was to-day adjudged insane by a jury in the circuit court. A guardian will beappointed to care for her estate.

Died, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wyss, of Marion township. The bereaved father is a brother of G. S. Wyss, of Auditor Glutting's office.

A meeting of the union barbers and bosses will be held this evening to decide upon a new schedule of prices for "extras," heretofore given to customers free.

Mrs. Mary Tiedmann died at her residence, 245 West Wayne street, at the age of seventy-six years, last evening, of old age. The deceased is a widow and leaves no children.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded; Frederick Kraft et al. to Henry Kraft, east thirty-three feet of lot 74, E. Hanna sr.'s addition, $450; Frederick Kraft et al. to Fred H. Kraft lots 74 and 75, E. Hanna sr.'s addition, $450.

Charles Ryan, son of Justice Ryan, has gone to Cincinnati to attend law school. He has secured a situation as stenographer and type writer in the law office of Stay & Cogan, and will combine the duties of this position with his studies. Charley is a bright young man, and has a promising future.

Gump, the faster, is still on earth. He remarked to-day that his health was good and that he would finish his fast or die. One week from to-day will complete his time. The physicians report the following condition to day: Temperature, 98 1 5; pulse, 48; respiration, 22; weight, 105½; water, 12 ounces.

Thomas A. Wilkinson, deputy sheriff, was last evening initiated into the mysteries of the Knights of Pythias, by Phœnix lodge, No. 101. There were also four more applications for membership received. The lodge is enjoying prosperity since they have moved into their new lodge room in the Randall block.

An assistant to Rev. C. Gross will not be selected until the first or second Sunday in March. The Emanuel's Lutheran church congregation held a meeting last Sunday but other business prevented them having the proper time to complete the business of the meeting. It was therefore decided to postpone a selection from the five candidates proposed for the assistant pastorate.

Mattie Vickers, who is a favorite in Fort Wayne, charmed the audience at the Masonic Temple last night with her splendid rendition of the character of the Swiss girl in "Edelweiss." From the moment she stepped upon the stage until the curtain fell in the last act, her bright, cheerful, sunshiny ways, her singing and dancing, and her acting true to life, won the hearts of the audience. Miss Vickers is an actress of whom the audience never tire, and she is winning fame and fortune in her new Swiss story. She has surrounded herself with a splendid company, every one of whom is an artist in his or her line, and "Edelweiss" would be greeted with a crowded house should it return to this city.

GOING HIGHER.

A Fourth Story to be Added to the Evans Block.

The plans have just been completed by Wing & Mahurin for a fourth story to be added to the Evans block on East Berry street. The improvement is made to accommodate the increasing business of the Hoosier Manufacturing company, which industry will have its facilities added to by placing new machines. George Evans, secretary of the company, is in Chicago to-day for the purpose of ordering new equipment. The contract for the new addition will be let at once so that the work may proceed without delay. The building is 40x100 feet in dimensions.

GETTING POINTERS.

Supt. L. D. McNutt Getting Metropolitan Ideas at Chicago.

Some changes in the way of improving the Fort Wayne Street railway system are no doubt anticipated by that company. They have detailed Supt. L. D. McNutt to Chicago for the purpose, it is said, of getting pointers for the Fort Wayne system. It is thought by some that the company will build the new East Lewis street line to operate by electricity which, if successful, will result in a general adoption of electric lines. There is nothing authentic enough at present, however, to base any opinions on very firmly. The Fort Wayne company have been giving the patrons of their street railway lines good service and in due time other improvements will come. Mr. McNutt is accompanied on his trip by William H. Spencer, of New York city.

MASONIC TEMPLE.

Mlle. Rhea To-Morrow Night and Pauline Hall Friday.

Theater goers will be given a rich treat to-morrow evening at the Temple, when Rhea, the tragic, emotional and beautiful actress, after an absence of several seasons, will present her new and greatest play, "Josephine, Empress of the French." The same magnificent company, who have been accorded praise in every city visited, will be members of the cast here, principal of whom is Mr. William Harris, a most capable actor, who will play Napoleon Bonapart, one of the greatest creations known to the stage. The costumes are superb and the mountings of the play magnificent. Rhea will crowd the Temple to morrow night, and she ought to, for she has won plaudits everywhere she has appeared.

Lewis Morrison's grand production of "Faust" will have a two nights' stay at the Masonic, beginning Tuesday, March 3d.

In his revival of "Samuel of Posen," M. B. Curtis has spared no pains or expense to make the production equal if not better than originally produced. "Sammy" comes to the Temple next Satu day.

Pauline Hall, the famous comic opera singer, and her company of sixty people, will appear at the Temple Friday evening, February 27. The new comic opera, "Amorita," will be given with a wealth of exquisite costumes and elaborate scenery, combining to make a grand spectacular production of comic opera.

ROSE TWELVE FEET.

The Rivers Continue to Surge and Swell Into a Flood.

The rivers continued to rise during the night and at 9 o'clock to-day a person who had kept careful record found that the St. Marys river had risen twelve feet since the recent rain storms. The city flats are badly flooded and the water at Baltes & Romy's addition along Spy Run avenue encroaches upon the premises of a number of residents in that vicinity. The old reunion grounds are under water. The St. Marys river is spreading her wings wider and wider, inundating low lands along its course, but up to this time no damage of great consequence has been reported.

INTO A DRUG STORE.

Burglars Remove Panels in Dr. Heaton's Door and Secure Cash.

Burglars effected an entrance into the drug store of Dr. Heaton, at the corner of Berry and Clinton streets, last evening, by getting into the cellar and thence into the storeroom by removing the door panels at the cellar stairway. The cash drawer was forced open and the contents, amounting to $8 in small change, was carried away. The stock was left undisturbed.

SCIENTIFIC PUGILISM!

Two College Professors Indulge in a Fist Fight Over the Result of a Law Suit.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 14.—A few weeks ago Head Master Gottwald, of the Cleveland school of art, a branch of the Adelbert college, brought a series of charges against Dean Wells, of the same institution, accusing the latter with being immoral and incompetent. A trial was had before a court appointed by the directors of the college, and while Professor Gottwald's charges were found to be unsustained by the evidence, the court considered it necessary to express disapprobation of the manner in which the dean has of late been conducting himself. The verdict was rendered Saturday, and this morning Wells entered Gottwald's studio, in the City hall building, and called him a number of things that the professor did not like. After words had ceased to be strong enough to suit him Dean Wells let go with his right and knocked the professor down. Gottwald then grabbed a dump bell and hammered Wells upon the head with it. Artists who have studios in the same building were attracted by the cries of the fighters and parted them before either had been seriously damaged. It is expected that there will be further sensational developments. The case has attracted considerable attention from the artists of the country.

OF INTEREST TO POLITICIANS.

Central Committees Have the Right to Adjust All Difficulties.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—The state supreme court, in session at Jefferson City, yesterday rendered a decision in the case of state ex rel, O'Malley vs. the secretary of state, which firmly establishes the authority of the state central committee of either political party to interfere, arbitrate and adjust local political differences within a party. This was a proceeding which grew out of Patrick O'Malley's resistance to the order of the state committee calling new primaries and a new convention in the Sixth Congressional district last fall. The opinion was rendered by Judge Sherwood. The court denies the peremptory writ and holds that central committees of political parties have the right to arbitrate and settle differences between candidates.

Mothers Engaged in a Good Work.

GREENCASTLE, Feb. —The mothers of this city are holding weekly meetings with a view to the repression of vice of every description. The meetings are held in the different churches and are participated in by earnest Christian workers, irrespective of the denominational differences. The association aims at the suppression of billiard halls, the reclamation of fallen women and a social edict against progressive euchre as well as all games of chance. At the meeting yesterday the committee reported satisfactory progress in their respective lines of work.

A Decision Affirmed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Judge Blodgett this morning affirmed the decision of the New York board of appraisers in the contest made by Marshall Field & Co., against the payment of certain duties. In deciding the case Judge Blodgett said he had been favorably impressed by the arguments made by the counsel for the contestants, but he thought it best to affirm the decision and allow the matter to be finally settled by the United States supreme court, where an appeal would be taken.

Death of a Prominent Railroader.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Feb. 24.—Gen. John Lawler, who was stricken with paralysis some days ago, died at 1 o'clock this morning. General Lawler was a native of Ireland, and came here in 1857. He was quite wealthy and very liberal, one of his donations being about $100,000 to establish the Catholic college and convent here. He was for many years a director in the St. Paul railroad company.

Hartford City Items.

HARTFORD CITY, Feb. 24.—The New England comedy, "Ruben Glue," which was played here Friday night, was a success and was favored with a crowded house.

Miss Minnie Devore, of Bluffton, is visiting John Leonard.

The Tennessee warblers sang in the opera house Saturday night. Proceeds were for the benefit of the Epworth League.

Died From His Injuries.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 24.—John Okeffe, aged forty-two, employed as a steward on the steamer Helmsley, died at the hospital here yesterday from the effects of injuries which the man alleged were inflicted by the captain; but did not say when or where it happened.

Fifteen Persons Injured.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Feb. 24.—In the accident to the west bound passenger train on the Union Pacific, near Cascades yesterday, fifteen persons were slightly injured, but no one seriously hurt.

Struck a "Gusher."

SHELBYVILLE, Feb. 24.—The Citizens' Natural Gas company has completed its first well in Hancock county. Gas was struck at a depth of 931 feet, and the result was a gusher. The well is said to be one of the best in Hancock county. Other wells will be drilled and gas piped at once. This company was organized in opposition to the Southern Indiana company.

ENGLAND'S GRASPING POLICY.

Scheming to Extend Her Possessions --Foreign News.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Notwithstanding the qualified denial of Sir James Ferguson last night, there is a general belief that Lord Salisbury's government meditates an advance into the Soudan, with the view of re-conquering that vast region for the post and for England. The force at present engaged in upper Egypt is very small and consists largely not of Egyptian, but of native Soudanese troops under British officers, including Colonel Holland Smith, Capt. Beth, of Twentieth Hussars, and Capt. Besant. Sir James Ferguson truly says this force is not strong enough to more than occupy Tokar, but England could not and would not prevent the Khedive from sending a much larger native force under British commanders into the Soudan. The Soudanese troops are magnificent fellows, mostly at least six feet, and of great strength. A dispatch says that the wiry but weaker dervishes could not stand a moment before them when it came hand to hand.

From Zanzibar comes the news of a horrible murder committed by a German named Raddats, upon an African slave girl, whom he got into his possession. The girl belonged to the Swahili tribe. Raddats brutally murdered the girl in a bath room, and buried parts of the body on the beach in the neighborhood of his house. The dwelling on being searched, afforded ample evidence of the crime. Raddats will be tried by the German authorities.

A Vienna dispatch says that the treaty negotiations between Austria and Germany are nearly completed, but the draft of the convention will be kept secret until laid before the parliaments of Germany, Austria and Hungary in the autumn. Meanwhile, it is said, the governments of the two empires will enter into treaty negotiations with other countries, taking the Austro-German convention as a basis, and all the treaties will be submitted together.

ROME, Feb. 24.—The statement published in Italy yesterday that Cardinal Gibbons had been summoned to Rome for a conference on church questions in the United States is denied in various circles. It is also stated that there is no question pending which would require his presence in Rome. Two bishops from the United States are expected here at Easter.

BUENOS AYRES, Feb. 24.—The government has gained several seats by the elections for members of the chamber of deputies. The elections were orderly. Four newspapers have been suppressed for seditious utterances in support of opposition candidates.

Amateur Journalists Meet.

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—The amateur journalists of the United States held a conference here yesterday. Papers were read by Mrs. Edith M. Minutur, of Worcester; William O. Wyllie, of Beverly; John L. Tomlinson, of Chicago; E. F. Pugh, of Utica; Mrs. E. N. Fry, of Halifax; T. J. Spencer, of Hartford; E. A. Edkins, of Cincinnati, and Miss Fry, of Halifax. In the evening a banquet was held.

Death of a Veteran.

SOUTH BEND, Feb. 24.—Asa Knoti, an old and prominent resident of this county, died this morning at 2 o'clock. He was first lieutenant in Company B, Forth-eighth Indiana volunteers, and made a brilliant war record. He was one of the organizers of the Farmer's Mutual Insurance company of St. Joseph county.

Settling on the Cherokee Outlet.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Feb. 24.—The Traveller last Thursday said that letters had been received from Congressman Perkins and others that settlers in the Cherokee outlet could legally hold their homesteads. As a result fully 1,000 settlers have gone in and every quarter section for fifteen miles south of the Kansas border is occupied.

Switchman Killed.

LOGANSPORT, Feb. 24.—T. W. Truax, a switchman in the Pan-handle yards in this city, was almost cut into pieces by a switch engine in the yards yesterday. Notwithstanding his terrible injuries, he lived until 2 p. m. and was conscious most of the time.

By the Hoosier Route.

LAFAYETTE, Feb. 24.—Albert Ogborn, of Pine Village, committed suicide last night with morphine. Despondency is given as the cause. A wife and three children survive him.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—For Indiana: Threatening weather and rain; winds generally southerly, becoming variable; colder Wednesday.

Foster's Appointment Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The senate has confirmed the nomination of Charles Foster as secretary of the treasury.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Burger celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding last evening, at 381 South Harrison street.

WILL AVOID A STRIKE.

The Officials and Employees Will Settle Their Differences in a Peaceful Manner.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 24.—A general conference of the employes of the Pennsylvania lines east and west of Pittsburg was held here yesterday, to consider the wage trouble. The members of the eastern grievance committee arrived in this city yesterday afternoon. They had just concluded a lengthy conference in the east and came here to confer with the western men. The advance has been demanded in the east also, and in the event of trouble it is claimed by the members of the grievance committee that the employes of the two systems will work together. Chiefs Arthur and Sargent held a private conference in Cleveland yesterday. The situation is understood perfectly by Mr. Arthur and it is intimated that he is not entirely in accord with some of the leaders in the present trouble. The division superintendents of the Pennsylvania company held a consultation with General Manager Wood. They will prepare a schedule of wages which will be submitted to the grievance committee. If it does not prove satisfactory to the latter more conferences between the officials and the men will be held. Every effort to avert a strike will be made by both sides and a tie-up will be the last resort.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—Twelve engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad company of this city have left for Pittsburg to consult with the engineers and firemen in that city in regard to their difficulty with the railroad. At the Broad street station the men profess to know very little about the matter. The officials at this station say they have paid little heed to the agitation which is now going on at Pittsburg.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.

Interesting Letters From Cleveland Read at Both.

BROCTON, Mass., Feb. 24.—The Young Men's Democratic and Tariff Reform club, of this city, observed Washington's birthday last evening by a banquet at Hotel Belmont. The following letter of regret from ex-President Cleveland was read:

"NEW YORK, Feb. 16.

"Dennis Sheedy, Secretary:

"DEAR SIR—I am sorry that I cannot accept your invitation to attend the banquet given by the Young Men's Democratic and Tariff Reform club of Brockton on the evening of the 23d inst. I am only able to say in addition that I am exceedingly gratified to find in the name of your club an indication that the organization recognizes the fact that the cause of the democratic party cannot, or, at least ought not to be separated from that of tariff reform.

"Yours very truly,

[Signed.] "GROVER CLEVELAND."

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 24.—The dinner given by the Young Men's Democratic club, of Portland, at the Preble house, last evening, in celebration of Washington's birthday, was largely attended by leading democrats. Among the letters of regret were those from Governor Hill, of New York; Governor Russell, of Massachusetts; Senator Gorman, and the following from ex-President Cleveland:

"NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—MY DEAR SIR: —I regret that it is impossible for me to accept the invitation received from your committee to attend a banquet at Portland on the 23d, given by the Young Men's Democratic club to celebrate its organization and the recent democratic victories. Both these things are well worthy of democratic celebration. The victories our party has achieved demonstrate that our fellow countrymen appreciate honest and sincere efforts in their behalf, and the advent of a Young Men's Democratic club in Portland gives promise of more earnest and effective democratic effort and the enlistment of powerful aid in the cause of good government. Yours very truly,

[Signed.] GROVER CLEVELAND."

TOO HANDY WITH THE PEN.

A Former Newspaper Man Arrested for Forgery.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 24.—When the steamer U. P. Schenck arrived here yesterday from New Orleans, officers arrested a passenger travelling under the name of Charles T. Smith, on a telegram from the chief of police at New Orleans, saying Smith had passed a forged check on the St. Charles hotel. In his valise was found a number of checks for amounts ranging from $50 to to $4,000 drawn on the Chemical bank and the Lincoln National bank, of New York, and the State National bank of Cleveland, Ohio. Smith claims that there is some mistake about the New Orleans check, and he will make it all right. He claims to be a newspaper man, and says he was formerly editor of the New York Times.

Believed to be American Experts.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Some of the £20,000 in Bank of England notes, stolen by sneak thieves on the 16th inst., from a bank messenger in the office of the National Provincial bank in this city, have been traced to Queenstown, from which fact it is inferred that the two men who accomplished the robbery have sailed for America. The police believed at the time of the theft that the criminals were American experts.

CONFESSES HIS CRIME.

Murdered His Friend for $165 in a Strange City.

MANISTEE, Mich., Feb. 24.—Johannes Salomsen, who was arrested last week on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of Record Carlson, broke down yesterday and made a full confession. He says that he put sixty grains of strychnine in a flask of whisky, and when he came to Manistee with Carlson induced the latter to drink the mixture. Carlson became violently ill, and, on a pretense of securing a doctor, Salmonsen took out his friend's pocketbook, containing his keys, and then left him to die in a vacant lot. He returned to East Lake and in Carlson's trunk found $165 in money, the possession of which led to his being suspected of the crime.

More Trouble in the Coal Mines.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Feb. 24.—A contest between the strikers and non-strikers at the Coke plants near Dawson was narrowly averted yesterday. A crowd of 5,000 strikers came down to get the men in the Fort Hill, Paul and Rainey plants to stop work. Many of the strikers were in liquor and most of them were armed. The employees at work at the mines fled precipitately upon the approach of the mob. No actual conflict occurred. One thousand miners in the Latrobe district will be called out to day. It is said the Clearfield miners will also be called out.

General Sherman's Statue.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—It is proposed to erect a statue of the late General Sherman at the entrance of the new City Hall. The plans of the new building provide for a carriage way leading directly to the door of the building, outside of which is a flight of massive stone steps about fifty feet in length. In the middle of this flight of steps is a pedestal for an equestrian statue. The pedestal is about fourteen feet long and five feet wide. It is proposed to have a mounted statue of General Sherman placed upon the pedestal.

Express Agent in Trouble.

CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 24.—Victor Irvine Clark was arrested here yesterday, charged with having defrauded the American Express company. He was the agent of the company at St. Charles, Iowa, but left there several months ago, taking with him a blank money order book which, together with letters and identifications written by himself and sent forward to his address to the points he expected to visit, he used successfully at the offices of the company.

Want a Prize Fight.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 24.—Billy Sims and Sam Berliner, well known sporting men of this city, announce that they will give a purse of $15,000 for a fight to a finish with skin tight or ounce gloves, between Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Hall, of Australia, the fight to take place in San Antonio during the last week of October or the first week in November.

The Fight Sold.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—The directors of the California Athletic club held a meeting last night to consider the question of awarding the victory for the Mitchell-LaBlanche fight which took place last Friday night. After some discussion the decision was postponed until next Monday night. Charges have been made that the fight was sold.

A Cyclone in North Carolina.

NORFOLK, W. Va., Feb. 24.—A tornado swept over Sunbury, Gates county, North Carolina, on Saturday night. The storm swept a space half a mile wide, and carried everything with it. Two children were killed near Sunbury, and it is reported that a number of people were killed further east. The wires are all down and details are lacking.

A New Daily Paper.

MASON CITY, Iowa, Feb. 24.—The Mason City Daily Times is a new venture in the newspaper world. The first issue will appear March 1, with R. Stanbury as editor and proprietor. It will be independent in politics. It will be the first daily paper published in this city.

Heavy Snow Fall in the West.

SISSON, Cal., Feb. 24.—Yesterday it resumed snowing, and all railroad tracks are blocked. The Northern express has been delayed near Tunnel No. 9, and is many hours over due. On the summit of the road to Fall River there is eight feet of snow.

Bank Failure.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Feb. 24.—Dodridge & Co., bankers, made an assignment yesterday, due to the great stringency of the money market, and to a hard run on the bank. The assets are said to be more than double the liabilities.

Damaged by Floods.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Feb. 24.—Besides doing great damage to buildings and growing grains in Davies county, the tremendous floods inundated several large coal mines near here, and several hundred miners are out of employment.

Palmer Tattles Out.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 24.—On the 123 senatorial ballot Palmer received one and the joint assembly adjourned until to-morrow.

HIS FIRST DRUNK.

A Young Man Pleads for Mercy in the Police Court and is Released --Court News.

The only prisoner before Mayor Harding this morning was a young man who had been arrested last night for drunkenness. He spent the night behind the bars and when his case was called this morning threw himself upon the mercy of the court and told his story. It was his first drunk, he said. Last night he fell into bad company and during their rounds of the saloons, he drank beer and whisky. The intoxicating stuff affected him worse than it did his companions and it was not long before he became so drunk that they deserted him. The young fellow then fell into the hands of the police and was taken to the station house where he slept off the effects of his night's debauch. He said he had work and was expected to be at his place today, and promised the mayor that if he was released he would not be brought before him again on the same charge. The prisoner told his story with candor, said he was sorry for the shame and disgrace that he had brought upon himself—and the mayor, deeming mercy in his case the best remedy, allowed him to depart without the customary fine or imprisonment.

IN THE COURTS.

Frank Cox was fined $1 and costs in Justice Taneey's court this morning for assault and battery on Frank Thompson, and for the same offense Sherman Cox was fined a similar amount. The latter was also fined for provoke. The parties all reside in Lake township.

Papers have been filed in the county clerk's office declaring Mary Faulkerson, of Cedar Creek township, insane, and asking that she be sent to the asylum at Richmond.

Frank Miller, a boy, was arrested yesterday on an affidavit charging him with jumping on Nickel Plate trains and was fined by Justice Hays $1 and costs. His father stayed the docket. On the same charge, Christopher Schwartz and Henry Schwartz were tried and fined $1 and costs. The former was sent to jail and the docket was stayed in the latter's case.

In Justice Hays' court John Brown sues George Moore on an account for $5, and John M. Flint brings action against L. P. Stapleford for $16.50.

Justice Ryan fined Mattie Clark, Maud Middleton, Ella Martin and Lulu Brown for frequenting a house of prostitution. They stayed the docket.

Justice Tancey fined Fred Kinley, of Lake township, $1 and costs for insulting a woman. Affidavits have been filed against Sherman and Frank Cox, of Huntertown, for assault and battery.

In Justice France's court affidavits were filed against Ed. Fairfield and Louis Juliard for disturbing a religious meeting at Prairie Grove chapel. A motion was being argued this afternoon for a new trial in the case of Effie Jones against William Hadley. The case of the Artificial Ice company against Powers & Barnett, for damages to a buggy will be heard Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Celia Courtney was fined $1 and costs in a provoke case.

The county commissioners were in session yesterday as a board of gravel road directors. Nothing of importance save general routine business was transacted. The clerk of the board submitted a report for the past year as follows: Cash in treasury February 15, 1890, $4,461.41; collected during the year, $1,468.94; total, $5,950.35. Expended during the year, $5,117.67; leaving a balance on hand February 15, 1891 of $832.68. The expenditures are divided among the various roads as follows: Huntington and Liberty Mills, $1,814.-68; Parent, $5100 83; Illinois, $1,019 74; Yellow River, $602 48; Simon's, $875 55; Wayne Trace, $584 75; salary of directors, $144.40; salary of clerk, $102.25; stationery, $12; total, $5,117.67.

'Squire France rendered a judgment in favor of B. S. Angell for the possession of real estate. William Bucker was the defendant.

Mary E. Carson was arrested yesterday by Constable Bagby on a charge of getting intoxicated in a public place, preferred against her by her divorced husband, Silas C. Carson. 'Squire Hays fined her $1 and costs.

Articles of incorporation of the Plymouth Congregational church were filed in the county auditor's office yesterday. The officers of the congregation are to be one pastor, four deacons, five trustees, secretary and treasurer. The following trustees are named: Edwin A. Gillett, to serve five years; W. H. Mossman, to serve four years; James Cairns, to serve three years; E. O. Poole, to serve two years; and G. W. Pixley, to serve one year.

The Columbia City Commercial says: "A. R. Jackson, of Churubusco, has for some time past been quite unstrung. As he was going home on one occasion a pistol shot was heard in the dark and a bullet came whizzing uncomfortably close. Mr. Jackson for some time was unconscious of why an attempt upon his life was being made. He read the Kuhns letter, which was published in the Commercial last Thursday, and which caused a great deal of feeling. It then was made clear to him why some one desired his life. As Jackson was one of the principal witnesses in the Mease case the matter is made quite clear. There is no doubt but what Kuhns and Mease have numerous confederates in this section of the country, who would hesitate at nothing would it insure the escape of a partner in crime. A western vigilance committee would put some swiss. In the south white caps rid the country of such desperate characters, here the weak law has to contend with all difficulties in catching them."

WILL BEAR INVESTIGATION.

The Howell Family Subjected to Inhuman Insults.

A subject of considerable gossip on the south side, in which the family of C. A. Howell, of 89 Miner street, appear to be the object of the most unjust persecution, has been presented to the proper authorities and an investigation would undoubtedly place the guilty person or persons in a position that would be unpleasant, to say the least, if an expose were to be made public. The method of offense was begun by sending to Grace, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howell, anonymous letters. The young lady was so distracted at the unaccountable missives that she was stricken with brain fever, from which she is only now convalescing. On the heels of this outrage, one of the daily papers was furnished an announcement of the young lady's death, and such tidings were innocently allowed to go forth by the editor. On several occasions crepe was hung upon the door of the house of Mr. Howell during the night, and other tricks of a like nature were perpetrated. The Howell family have the respect of the neighborhood in which they reside, Mr. Howell being a hard-working mechanic, and his family having the traits of industry and devotion which are found in the happy and contented home circle; therefore, righteous indignation is aroused. Suspicion points to a certain one who has been deluding the Howell family while in their confidence, by casting a ray of guilt upon really innocent parties. The outrageous acts are undoubtedly the work of somebody who is getting into a difficulty from which extrication will by no means be easy. Prosecutor J. M. Robinson knows something of the case.

A HORRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

A Deceased Miner Tells the Story of His Entombment.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 24.—The five miners who had been entombed in the mine at Jamesville for nineteen days, were brought to the surface this morning. All were unconscious, with the exception of Mashiskowicz, who, by the aid of an interpreter, was interviewed by a United Press reporter this morning. He said: "I never gave up hope but that we would all be rescued alive, although my companions did. They recalled similar disasters in which men perished. I said let us pray to God, He will help us; and so He did. For the first eight days we lived on the contents of our dinner pails. We had them pretty well filled with pork, bread and cheese. The first day I said, now as there is hope of being rescued we will ration our food. It was agreed, and we got together in the corner of a breast. The cold was intense, and we had to keep crowded and hug each other to keep warm. At first we could not drink the sulphur water, but necessity compelled us, and in the course of time we liked it. On the ninth day our last food was gone. We were surrounded by water and delirous. I thought I would go on a little exploration expedition. I was mighty lucky. I found a dinner pail. There was not much in it, but what there was we lived on for two days. Then I was almost too weak to go on foraging expeditions. As a last resort we had to kill the rats, and they, like ourselves, were half starved and desperate. They would attack us bodily and we had to fight them off. I killed three or four a day. We had no hesitancy in eating their legs. It was good food. We would certainly have starved had we not had the rats to eat. We resolved to die together rather than eat each other." Dr. Doolittle says the men will all recover their usual health.

BRIDGE BUILDERS.

Prominent Contractors' Agents Before the County Commissioners.

The county commissioners met this afternoon for the purpose of opening bids for new iron bridges to be built in the townships of Adams, Madison, Milan, St. Joe, Washington, Aboite, Pleasant and Springfield. The work will be done next season at a probable cost of $25,000. The following representatives were before the commissioners this afternoon when the bids were opened. James H. Wynkoop, Milwaukee Bridge company; James A. Huston, Smith company, Toledo; J. H. Hilton, Massilon, O., company; W. W. Winslow, Canton, O., company; W. P. Anewalt, Pittsburg company; W. B. Wheelock, Chicago company; John P. Cowing, of the King's Bridge company. Agents of the Indiana Bridge company, of Muncie, and others were also here, but their names could not be obtained.

THE NEW BANK.

The Site Selected and Plans Nearly Completed.--The Contract to Be Let Soon.

Vague rumors about a proposed new bank in this city have put the business men and citizens on the qui vive for the facts of the matter. Although the gentlemen who have taken the responsibility to pilot the new enterprise to a safe launch are not ready to be interviewed, (neither the architects, who have the drawings for the new building about completed,) enough information has oked its way out to show what is to be done. It will probably be a national bank, and the actual founder is John W. White, who will be associated with his father, Hon. J. B. White, the ex-congressman, and probably with his brother, Edward White, president of the Allen County Building and Loan association. Who the other incorporators will be cannot be ascertained at this writing. The building will be situated at the northwest corner of Wayne and Clinton streets and will be built of brick and stone, making one of the most magnificent buildings in the city, the dimensions to be 80x100 feet. The site of the proposed new building is now owned by Hon. J. B. White. The plans are being prepared by Wing & Mahurin, but a SENTINEL reporter was not permitted to see them. The new bank will be one of the solid money institutions of the state.

PETER F. BARRAND.

An Old Pioneer of the County Passes to His Eternal Home.

The funeral of Peter F. Barrand, whose death occurred last week at his home, in Washington township, took place last Sunday, and was largely attended. Mr. Barrand was one of the pioneers of the county, and had reached the ripe old age of nearly four score years and ten, having been born in the year 1804 in France. He received a good education, and was a teacher in his native land. In 1836 he emigrated to the United States, and came immediately to Allen county. The trip from Toledo to this place he made in a pirogue upon the river as far as the rapids. When he arrived here Fort Wayne was but little other than a trading station, and the population very small. Mr. Barrand's first employment here was with the Indian chief, J. B. Richardville, and afterwards on the construction of the canal. On the 22d day day of November, 1836, he was married to Ann J. Poirson, who was born in France in 1820 and immigrated to this country with her parents in 1834. Her family, after spending a few years in New York state, moved to this county and settled on a farm on the old plank road, four and a half miles from Fort Wayne, where they kept what was called in those times "French Mary's Tavern," a name given it by the early settlers. After their marriage Mr. Barrand commenced farming on the Penn farm and three years later purchased a farm in Washington township on which he resided until his death. In 1888 Mr. and Mrs. Barrand celebrated their golden wedding. Mrs. Barrand and several children survive him, John B. Barrand, of this city being the superintendent of the sash, door and blind factory of Louis Diether & Brother. The deceased was an estimable citizen and left a host of friends to mourn his death.

COMING IN FORCE.

The Detroit Knights of St. John Will Come With Trumpets Blowing.

The Commanderies of the Knights of St. John in various parts of the country are submitting their intention of attending the coming convention of the Knights of St. John in this city next June. As an instance of the way these Commanderies are preparing for the event we reproduce the following from the Detroit Free Press:

A meeting of delegates of several Commanderies of Knights of St. John was held last night at Ferdinand Kuhn's restaurant, 18 Michigan avenue, for the purpose of considering the action taken at last Sunday's meeting, in favor of forming a local union consisting of the Detroit and Windsor companies.

It was unanimously resolved to meet a committee of the different commanderies in Detroit and Windsor on Friday night next at St. Mary's School hall to discuss the proposed union. A motion that it was the sense of the delegates of the commanderies represented at the meeting that they should take part in a body at the national convention of the order to be held in June next at Fort Wayne, Ind., was carried with a unanimous vote. A committee of one from each of the companies was appointed to secure railroad fare and make the necessary arrangements for the trip. At the convention at Columbus last year Detroit carried off all the honors in the parade in connection with the gathering. It is believed that a better showing will be made by the local knights at Fort Wayne. The companies above named which have taken the initial steps for the trip, will drill regularly for the event and will undoubtedly uphold the reputation of the Detroit knights at the convention parade, which promises to be the largest ever held in the history of the organization.

LET the toll roads be struck a death blow. They ought to go.

Is THIS the weather predicted a few weeks ago by the little ground hog?

WASHINGTON'S birthday was more generally observed this year than it has been for many years past.

In his sermon at the Second Presbyterian church last Sunday Rev. J. L. Leeper said one of the chiefest sins of to-day was unbelief in religion.

THOMAS W. KEENE, the tragedian, was attacked at Vicksburg, Miss., Saturday with acute neuralgia and nervous prostration. He has been compelled to cancel all of his southern engagements.

WHEN congress adjourns next week many of the present members will retire. Numerous farewell dinners and receptions are being given to the retiring members, many of whom have been in public service for years.

THE Farmer's alliance members of the Illinois legislature state that their constituents are perfectly satisfied with their course, and want them to continue the dead-lock. If they keep it up, when will Illinois choose her senator?

THE Fort Wayne Academy of Medicine, it is said, will adopt measures which will eventually prevent the insertion of advertising matter in the papers by physicians who are members of the academy. What new streak has seized the doctors! Oh well, guess the newspapers will have to stand it.

A MEMBER of a prominent firm of Boston which imports from the Argentine republic many goods yearly, including large quantities of carpet, wool and ostrich feathers—the cheapest sort made into feather dusters—speaking of the effect of the McKinley act, said that his firm has put on to the former price for carpet wool the entire amount of the recent advance under the McKinley act, and a trifle more. The total advance on this grade of wool was three cents and a fraction a pound, and the importers have been able to get about four cents more, solely on account of the tariff, of course, and is not a matter peculiar to this firm alone. On the other hand, the duty on ostrich feathers was reduced from twenty-five to ten per cent. Immediately the price to purchasers in this country fell the whole amount of the duty. This is the general law, this importer states, regarding articles that are not produced in this country, but are imported wholly from abroad.

A MOST interesting political reminiscence was given by Senator McDonald, of Indiana, in an interview, in Washington, a few days ago. He remarked that the tariff question is an evidence how history repeats itself. He said that the first political speech he ever made was at his old home in Crawfordsville, Indiana. That was forty years ago and President Polk was the candidate upon a tariff for revenue reform, substantially the same as that of the democratic party during the last presidential campain. During the Cleveland-Harrison campaign Mr. McDonald made his last speech in Crawfordsville, and the chairman said he did not believe an instance could be shown in our history of a man making two speeches for a presidential candidate forty-four years apart and advocating substantially the same issues. Mr. McDonald says: "The first message of President Polk was substantially the same as the tariff reform message of President Cleveland, and it brought about the enactment of the tariff of 1846."

THE LEGISLATURE.

The general taxation bill was up in the house yesterday. Mr. Gent offered a resolution that it was the sense of the committee that the bill should be recommitted, with instructions to amend it so as to provide for the collection of taxes by counties, and the distribution thereof in the way that is provided for by the present law; in other words to strike out the section providing that taxes on railroads should be paid into the state and county treasuries. In support of this, he said that the bill, if passed, would relieve from state taxation every part of railroad property in the state. It provided for unequal taxation, and it contained many provisions that were unjust.

Mr. Oppenheim defended the bill, saying that it proposed to follow the example of other progressive states, such as Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Vermont and others, which raised state revenues by taxation of railroads. In this state there was, under the present assessment, railroad property amounting to $70,000,000. A twenty cent levy on this would give a revenue of $1,400,000 a year, which, added to the $400,000 from other sources, would give the state an annual revenue of $1,800,000, or about $100,000 less than was needed. But these railroads have never been assessed one fourth the value of their property, and it was believed that under this proposed law they would be assessed higher. In his judgment, after the first assessment, the railroads would have to pay from $2,000,000 to $2,200,000 a year, which would permit the payment of all expenses and give the state a sinking fund of about $800,000 a year to apply on her debt. If this bill was not passed, it would be necessary, to raise the adequate revenue, to increase the tax levy for state purposes from twelve to eighteen or twenty cents. This bill did not propose to increase taxation one cent, but put the burden upon the railroads. Public sentiment under it would compel the officers in charge to raise the assessment of railroad property to something like its real value, and the revenues would be correspondingly increased. The rate of taxing railroads, he thought, should be increased over twenty cents on the $100 of valuation. Under the provisions of this bill if it did not operate as its framers felt sure it would, his own county (Allen) would lose annually $10,000, but he was willing to take the risk of that. He expected, however, that under the bill the state would derive $80,000 a year from railroad taxation in Allen county alone.

The famous cigarette bill came up in the senate and the vote to reconsider it was laid on the table.

Both branches of the legislature expect to take up the apportionment bill this week. When agreed upon by the caucus they will be worked through in a very short time. The democratic majority is so large in both houses as to be able to easily override any dilatory measures by the republicans.

The legislature will adjourn sine die, by constitutional limitation, two weeks from yesterday. In the house 680 bills have been introduced and ninety-two passed. In the senate 366 have been introduced and 101 passed. Those that have become laws are unimportant in character, while the most important ones are yet to be considered. The house will probably get through with the taxation and fee and salary bills by the middle of the week, and send them to the senate. The general and specific appropriation bills will be reported from the committee on ways and means to-day, and it is hoped to get through with them by the end of the week. The apportionment bills will also be considered this week.

PAVEMENT TALK.

A Resolution for Paving Lafayette Street—Berry Street Petitions.

Councilman Scheid will to-night introduce a resolution at the regular meeting of the council for a new cedar block pavement on Lafayette street from the railroad to DeWald street. A second section to the resolution will also be introduced to pave the same thoroughfare from Wayne street to the railroad. This is similar to the resolution introduced by Councilman Kensaill a year ago.

At the meeting to-night the Berry street pavement matter will also come up, and petitions will be presented by both the advocates of brick and asphalt.

James Wilding, manager of the Old Fort Manufacturing company, has returned from a trip to the cities of St. Paul, Duluth, Minneapolis, Sioux City, Omaha and Kansas City. He went in the interest of the company he represents.

CELEBRATION AT BALDINSVILLE IN HONOR OF THE ATLANTIC CABLE.

BALDINSVILLE, INJIANNY, Sep. the onct, 18&58.—I was summund home from Cinsinnaty quite suddin by a lettur from the Supervizers of Baldinsville, sayin as how grate things was on the Tappis in that air town in refferunse to sellebratin the compleshun of the Sub-Mershine Telligraph & axin me to be Pressunt. Lockin up my Kangaroo and wax wurks in a sekure stile I took my departer for Baldinsville—"my own, my native lan," which I gut intwo at early kandle litin on the follerin night & just as the sellerbrashun and illumernashun ware commensin.

Baldinsville was trooly in a blaze of glory. The Tavern was lit up with taller kandles all over & a grate bon fire was burnin in frunt thareof. A Transpirancy was tied onto the sine post with the follerin wurds—"Giv us Liberty or Deth." Old Tompkinsis grosery was illumernated with 5 tin lantuns and the follerin Transpirancy was in the winder—"The Sub-Mershino Tellergraph & the Baldinsville and Stonefield Plank Road—the 2 grate eventz of the 19th centerry—may intestines strife never mar their grandjure." Simpkinsis shoe shop was all ablaze with kandles and lantuns.

A American Eagle was painted onto a flag in a winder—also these words, viz.—"The Constitooshun must be Presarved." The Skool house was lited up in grate stile and the winders was filld with mottoes amung which I notised the follerin—"Trooth smashed to erth shall rise agin—YOU CAN'T STOP HER." "The Boy stood on the Burnin Deck whense awl but him had Fled." "Prokrastinashun is the 'heaf of Time.'" "Be virtoous & you will be Happy." "Intemperunse has cawsed a heap of trubbleshun the Bole," an the follerin sentiment written by the skool master, who graduated at Hudson Kollige: "Baldinsville sends greetin to Her Magisty the Queen, & hopes all hard feelins which has heretofore previs bin felt between the Supervizers of Baldinsville and the British Parlimunt, if such there has been, may now be forever wiped frum our Escutchens. Baldinsville this night rejoices over the glorious event which sements 2 grate nashuns onto one anuther by means of a electric wire under the roarin billers of the Nasty Deep. QUOSQUE TANTRUM, A BUTTER, CATERLINY, PATENT NOSTRUM!"

Squire Smith's house was lited up regardlis of expense. His little sun William Henry stood upon the roof firin orf crackers. The old 'Squire hisself was dressed up in soljer clothes and stood on his door step, pintin his sword sollumly to a American flag which was suspendid on top of a pole in frunt of his house. Frequently he wood take orf his cocked hat & wave it round in a impressive stile. His oldest darter Miss Isabeller Smith, who has just cum home from the Perkinsville Female Instertoot, appeared at the frunt winder in the West room as the goddis of liberty, & sung "I see them on their windin way." Booteus 1, sed I to myself, you air a angil & nothin shorter. N. Boneparte Smith, the 'Squire's oldest sun, drest hisself up as Venus the God of Wars and red the Decleration of Inderpendunse from the left chambir winder.

The 'Squire's wife didn't jine in the festivertics. She sed it was the tarnulest nonsense she ever seel. Sed she to the 'Squire, "Cum into the house and go to bed you old fool, you. Tomorrer you'll be goin round half-ded with the rumertism & won't gin us a minit's peace till you get well." Sez the 'Squire, "Betsy, you little appresiate the importance of the event which I this night commemorate." Sez she, "Commemorate a cat's tail—cum into the house this instant, you pesky old critter." "Betsy," sez the 'Squire, wavin his sword, "retire." This made her just as mad as she could stick. She retired, but cum out agin putty quick with a panfull of Bilin hot water which she throwed all over the Squire, & Surs, you wood have split your sides larfin to see the old man jump up and holler & run into the house.

Doctor Hutchinsis offisa was likewise lited up and a Transpirancy on which was painted the Queen in the act of drinkin sum of "Hutchinsis invigorater," was stuck into one of the winders. The Baldinsville Bugle of Liberty noospaper offiss was also illumernated, & the follerin mottoes stuck out—"The Press is the Arkermejian leaver which moves the world." "Vote Early." "Buckle on your Armer." "Now is the time to Subscribe." "Franklin, Morse & Field." "Terms $1.50 a year—liberal reducshuns to clubs." In short the villige of Baldinsville was in a perfect fewroar. I never seed so many peple thar befour in my born days. Ile not attemp to describe the seens of that grate night. Wurds wood fale me ef I shood try to do it. I shall stop here a few periods and enjoy my "Otium cum dig the tates," as our skool master observes, in the buzzum of my famerly, & shall then resume the show bisnis, which I've bin into twenty-two (22) years and six (6) months.

AMONG THE SPIRITS.

My naburs is mourn harf crazy on the new-fangled idear about Sperrets. Sperrotooul Sircles is held nitely & 4 or 5 long hared fellers has settled here and gone into the Sperret bizniz excloosivly. A atemt was made to git Mrs. A. Ward to embark into the Sperret bizniz but the atemt falod. 1 of the long hared fellers told her she was a ethereal creeter & wood make a sweet majium, whareupon she attact him with a mop handle and drove him out of the house. I will hear observe that Mrs. Ward is a invalerable woman—the partner of my goys & the shairer of my sorrers. In my absunse she watchis my interests & things with a Eagle Eye & when I return she welcums me in afectionate stile. Trooly it is with us as it was with Mr. & Mrs. INGOMER in the Play, to whit,—

> 2 harts which beet as 1.

My naburs injooced me to attend a Sperrotooul Sircle at Squire Smith's. When I arrove I found the east room chock full includin all the old maids in the villige & the long hared feller afsaid. When I went in I was salootid with "here cums the benited man"—"hear cums the bory-heded unbeleever"—"here cums the skoffer at trooth," etsettery, etsettery.

Sez I, "my frens, it's troo I'm hear, & now bring on your Sperrets."

1 of the long hared fellers riz up and sed he would state a few remarks. He sed man was a critter of intelleck & was movin on to a Gole. Sum men had bigger intellecks than other men had and they wood git to the Gole the soonerest. Sum men were beests & wood never git into the Gole at all. He sed the Erth was material but man was immaterial, and hens was different from the Erth. The Erth, continnered the speaker, resolves round on its own axeltree once in 24 hours, but as man haint gut no axeltree he can't resolve. He sed the ethereal essunce of the koordinate branchis of superhuman natur becum mettymorfussed as man progrest in harmonial coexistunce & eventoually anty humanized theirselves & turned into reglar sperretuellers. [This was versifferusly applauded by the cumpany, and as I make it a pint to get along as pleasant as possible, I sung out, "bully for you, old boy."]

The company then drew round the table and the Sircle kommenst to go it. They axed me if there was anybody in the Sperret land which I wood like to convarse with. I sed if Bill Tompkins, who was onct my partner in the show biznis, was sober, I should like to convarse with him a few periods.

"Is the Sperret of William Tompkins present?" sed 1 of the long hared chaps, and there was three knox on the table.

Sez I, "William, how goes it, Old Sweetness?"

"Pretty ruff, old hoss," he replide.

"Air you in the show bizniz, William?" sed I.

He sed he was. He sed he & John Bunyan was travelin with a side show in connection with Shakspere, Jonson & Co.'s Circus. He sed old Bun (meanin Mr. Bunyan,) stired up the animils & ground the organ while he tended door. Occashunally Mr. Bunyan sung a comic song. The Circus was doin midlin well. Bill Shakspeer had made a grate hit with old Bob Ridley, and Ben Jonson was delitin the peple with his trooly grate ax of hossmanship without saddul or bridal.

Sez I, "William, my luvly friend, can you pay me that 13 dollars you owe me?" He sed no with one of the most tremenjis knox I ever experiunsed.

The Sircle sed he had gone. "Air you gone, William?" I axed. "Rayther," he replide, and I knowd it was no use to pursoo the subjeck furder.

I then called fur my farther.

"How's things, daddy?"

"Middlin, my son, middlin."

"Ain't you proud of your orfurn boy?"

"Scacely."

"Why not, my parient?"

"Becaws you hav gone to writin for the noospapers, my son. Bimeby you'll lose all your character for trooth and verrasserty. When I halpt you into the show biznis I told you to dignerfy that there profeshun. Litteratoor is low."

He also statid that he was doin middlin well in the peanut biznis & liked it putty well, tho' the climit was rather warm.

When the Sircle stopt thay axed me what I thawt of it.

Sez I, "My frens, I've bin into the show biznis now goin on 22 years. Theres a artikil in the Constitooshun of the United States which sez in effeck that everybody may think just as he darn pleazes, & them is my sentiments to a hare. You dowtlis beleeve this Sperret doctrin while I think it is a little mixt. Just as soon as a man becums a reglar out & out Sperret rapper he leaves orf workin, lets his hare grow all over his fase & commensis spungin his livin out of other peple. He eats all the dickshunaries he can find & gose round chock full of big words, scarin the wimmin folks & little children & destroyin the piece of mind of evry famerle he enters. He don't do nobody no good & is a cuss to society & a pirit on honest peple's corn beef barrils. Admittin all you say abowt the doctrin to be troo, I must say the reglar perfessional Sperrit rappers—them as makes a biznis on it—air abowt the most ornery set of cusses I ever enkountered in my life. So sayin I put on my surtoot and went home.

Respectfully Yures,

ARTEMUS WARD.

The Portrait of a Lady

Painted on paper by the pen of such a novelist as Henry James will do very well, but the real portrait of a real lady is a very different affair. Has she pimples on her face, or blotches? Is her complexion sallow? If so, the conscientious artist in this realistic age will have to put them all down. The lady's remedy for her pimples, blotches and sallowness is S.S.S. the great vegetable remedy for the blood. There can be no beauty where there is no health, whereas the most commonplace features are rendered piquant and interesting by a beautiful complexion. S.S.S. restores strength and vigor to the system, gives tone to the digestive organs, and cures all nervous disorders. The potency of this wonderful blood medicine is unquestionable, and yet, powerful as it is, it may be taken by the feeblest child and by the most delicate female. It has no rival in the wide field which it covers. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases Mailed Free.

THE LUMBER TRADE.

Unusual Activity in the Scramble for Choice Lots—Shops and Railroad News.

"The consumer or purchaser of our native lumber who does'nt get a 'hustle' on himself, will get left this year," remarked a dealer this morning. "This has been a severe winter on mill men, and yards that should be overflowing with logs are nearly empty. Buyers are aware of this fact, and are anxiously inquiring into the matter a month or six weeks in advance of former seasons. Considerable activity in the lumber trade has recently sprung up, and particularly in dry lumber. Unless I am greatly mistaken, two months hence will witness one of the most exciting scrambles for certain kinds of lumber ever known in the history of Fort Wayne. All the manufacturers have men out buying and contracting for all the lumber they can get, anticipating a rise in the price later in the season. This state of affairs is due to the mild winter and muddy roads. There are logs, and plenty of them, in the woods, but they will, in all probability, remain there until May or June, when the roads will become solid enough to allow them to be hauled on wagons."

WON SUCCESS ON HIS OWN MERITS.

Thomas Noonan, who will be the manager of the new Baltimore and Ohio and Big Four Fast freight line, with headquarters at Indianapolis, is an example of what an American boy of pluck and energy can do for himself in this big and busy world, for he has won his way to success upon his own merits. He commenced life as a poor boy, and when quite young met with an accident by which he lost one of his hands. When the writer of this first knew Mr. Noonan, then a youth of seventeen years of age, he was peddling candy by wagon for a confectionery firm at Tiffin, Ohio. He afterwards took a position as clerk with the firm and on its failure entered the office of a railroad at Tiffin as messenger. Step by step he worked his way up and in a few years became traveling freight agent of the Baltimore and Ohio road. He was advanced to district freight agent and subsequently took a position at Indianapolis as general manager of the Baltimore and Ohio and Kankakee Freight Line in that city and in a few years was made assistant general freight agent of the Big Four at Chicago and now in a few weeks will take the general management of the new Baltimore and Ohio and Big Four Fast Freight Line at Indianapolis, a position of responsibility and one in which he will command a big salary. Mr. Noonan is about forty three years of age, a man of pleasant address and sterling abilities and one who has won success in railroad life because he deserved it. His motto from early youth was to always do his level best for his employer, be honest and sober and "stick to business," and his tactics won. They will bring success to any young man who sticks to them.

LOCAL GOSSIP.

James Kelley, of the Pittsburg paint shops, is sick.

Louis Zanner, machinist at the Bass works, is still sick with lung fever.

F. Scheib, son of J. Scheib, has gone to Chicago to spend a few weeks with his sister.

Pat Carl, an apprentice in the Bass works, has returned to work after a severe illness.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company shipped a boiler and a 16x40 engine to Canton, O., to-day.

The Fleming Manufacturing company shipped a car load of road scrapers to southern Illinois last evening.

John and Joseph Schram, of Wallace street, are at Chicago, where they will make their home in the future.

Joseph Weideman, a helper in the Pittsburg machine shops, who was sick for some time, is again working.

L. Dobler, hostler at the Pittsburg round house, is still sick with la grippe, which threatens to run into lung fever.

George Waters has resigned his position in the machine shop of the Bass works, and accepted a similar one at Toledo.

Fred Meyers, foreman of the skein department of the Bass works, is still absent from the shops on account of sickness.

The car casting department of the Bass works, Frank Fink, foreman, is closed to-day to allow some repairs on the boiler.

The patrons of the Pennsylvania company at Madison, Ind., threaten to boycott the road for removing the telephone from the freight station. As the J., M. & I., or the Pennsylvania line, is the only road running into Madison, the boycott cannot be of a very serious nature.

H. O. Warner, a Pittsburg fireman, was unable to take his run this morning on account of a lame back. He is not confined to bed.

Robert Reiniche, formerly of the Olds Wagon works, has gone to Cleveland, O., to accept a position in a factory in that city.

Frank Kehler, fireman on a switch engine at Stony Island, spent Sunday in the city with his brother, D. B. Kehler, of Spy Run avenue.

Rice Harper, the originator and projector of the Lake Shore road, died at Sandusky on Friday night. He was eighty eight years old.

Harmon Ritmehe, a helper in the Bass machine shop, had a finger mashed yesterday, in consequence of which he will take a few days' lay-off.

D. A. Haman, agent at Oakwood, O., for the Fleming Manufacturing company, was in the city last evening making a contract for the season.

J. Weischmidt, who was sick for three weeks, returned to work at the Pittsburg shops this morning. He is employed in the car department.

None of the Chicago lines west are selling 1,000 mile tickets for less than $25, while all of the lines centering in Indianapolis are selling them at $30.

Thomas Rippen, line repairer of the Lansing division of the Lake Shore, and T. O. Dormus, road foreman of the same line, were in the city last evening.

Harry Hayes has finished the work of setting an engine for the Van Wert Furniture company, and returned to this city. He is employed at the Bass works.

T. Gerke and John Cox, both sick for a week or two, have returned to work in the Pittsburg shops. Mr. Gerke has been transferred from the car shop to the tin shop.

E. E. Genn, rate clerk for the Lake Shore at Toledo, spent Sunday with friends in the city. Mr. Genn was formerly chief clerk in Agent E. S. Philley's office.

To day another new steam hammer was moved into the new blacksmith shops of the Bass works. The company expect to be working in the new shop in two or three weeks.

Edward Arnes, Frank Reiniche and William Gregg, have gone to Jackson, Mich., to work for the American Wheel company. They formerly held positions at the Olds Wagon works in this city.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company are placing the new boiler in the factory of Rhinesmith & Simonson today. It is intended to furnish steam for the new addition of the door and sash factory.

The clerks in the Indianapolis offices are again agitating the organization of an association. The newly-organized association at Toledo has 162 members, and has money in its treasury to meet all ordinary expenses of the year.

Six couple, Pittsburg machinists and their wives, dropped in unexpectedly upon Miss Mary Sneiger, of Barr street, last evening, and presented her with a handsome life-sized picture of a very dear friend. The affair was a very pleasant one to all concerned.

Yesterday orders for folding beds were received by the Fort Wayne Furniture company from Texas, New Jersey, New York and Rhode Island. The company are now running their works thirteen hours a day and adding new men to their force nearly every week.

The lines in the Southwestern Traffic Association are now beginning to feel last year's shortage in crops. The report of Chairman Midgely shows that in January, 1891, the nine principal roads in the association hauled eastward 6 800 cars, against 17,400 in January 1890, and the exhibit for February bids fair to be even worse.

Twenty-two young men, members of the railroad reading room, called at the home of Thomas Potter, 45 Baker street, last evening and presented him with two handsomely bound books. The affair was a complete surprise to the gentleman. Mr. Potter is a carpenter in the road department of the Pittsburg and is a favorite with the patrons of the reading room, who adopted this method of expressing their esteem.

Yesterday the river caused the Fort Wayne Furniture company some anxiety. The water persisted in seeping through the levee and getting into the basement of the factory. At the waist factory all perishable goods were taken out of the ground floor and the furniture company was ready to move up one story on short notice should the levee break. There is no immediate danger of this, however, as the waters are not rising any more.

The Best Result.

Every ingredient employed in producing Hood's Sarsaparilla is strictly pure, and is the best of its kind it is possible to buy. All the roots and herbs are carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. So that from the time of purchase until Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared, everything is carefully watched with a view to attaining the best result. Why don't you try it?

BASE BALL GOSSIP.

No Contract Yet With Guy Hecker—What Buckenberger is Doing.

The following gossip is taken from the St. Louis Sporting News:

Guy Hecker is on the anxious seat. He expected, a month ago, to be appointed a league umpire, but has about given up hope. He has received offers from two minor league clubs—Bradford, Pa., and Fort Wayne, Ind.

Guy Hecker does not seem to have much chance of a league umpireship Nick Young says "Heck" ought to play ball another season or so.

Guy Hecker, of last years' Pittsburg league team, has signed with Fort Wayne, of the Indiana league. He is to be manager of the team and has full power to select the men. Jake Aydelotte, who has been manager up to date, was also released, as were also all the players he had signed. This is a big card for Fort Wayne and the Indiana league. O'Rourke and Taylor have also been signed.

There are but two clubs who have elected their officers and are ready for business and they are Fort Wayne and Anderson. It seems that the rest are very slow about it. Kokomo has started out a soliciting committee for subscriptions. They expect to raise $3,000 to start with. Our friend Joe Hennings is pushing it in Kokomo. There are Lafayette, Richmond, Muncie and Marion yet to hear from.

Jake Aydellotte, who was to manage the Fort Wayne team, secured the signatures of Martin, Bennett, McGinnis and Oates, and was after Gayle, the "phenom" pitcher (?).

Guy Hecker has received an offer from Fort Wayne to manage the team of that enterprising town. The salary promised is a very liberal one. Fort Wayne is again a member of the Indiana State League. Last year it finished fourth in the race under the management of Milt Scott, the old Allegheny first baseman. Among the Fort Wayne players last season were several who had worn Allegheny uniforms. Besides Milt Scott there were pitchers Dunning and Gray (the latter of six fingers and six toes fame), and Catcher Howard Brandenburg, who joined the Fort Waynes after the disbandment of the Blufftons. The Indiana State League this season will consist of Fort Wayne, Lafayette, Anderson, Kokomo, Marion, Peru, Richmond and Muncie. Hecker is paying no attention to the offer at present, as he wants to know how he stands with regard to an appointment on the umpire staff of the League. He has President Young's promise, and expects to hear from him very soon.

A special from Peru says: "Bob Berryhill will without doubt manage the Peru team of 1891. There is no better all-round ball player in this league than Bob. He is also good with the stick. The report that he had signed with the Fon du Lac, Wis., team is denied by him in a letter to a friend here."

WHAT BUCKENBERGER IS DOING.

Grand Rapids and Bay City are very anxious to have a ball club the coming season. They have written Manager Buckenberger regarding the prospects of a club in Detroit. They propose to take in Toledo, Indianapolis, Saginaw, and two other cities. I am afraid that it would be hard work to organize a club here for such a league. Detroit will stand nothing but an Association or National League club. Still, Buckenberger is willing to assist Grand Rapids and Bay City to organize such a league and endeavor to work up the interest here. Manager Buckenberger said he would decide what he intended doing next season in a few days. He is negotiating with several clubs and will probably come to an agreement with one of them shortly.

CALIFORNIA EXCURSIONS.

Combining Comfort, Economy and Respectability.

The Santa Fe route, realizing the fact that there is a demand for a service to California and the Pacific Coast which will secure to the traveler even a greater degree of comfort than is given on the regular trains, has organized a series of special Santa Fe route excursions on regular dates between Chicago, Kansas City and all California points.

The most successful and satisfactory low rate excursions ever run to California have been over the Santa Fe route, and this company, with its own line from Chicago to California, smooth track and fine equipment will make these excursions more popular and successful than ever.

The excursions leave Chicago every Thursday at 7:50 p.m. from the Dearborn station of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, and leave Kansas City every Friday at 10:45 a. m. and 11 a. m. They are personally conducted by salaried excursion agents of the Santa Fe route, who accompany the parties to destination, and give personal attention to the comfort of passengers, especially aged persons, ladies and children without escort.

Pullman Tourist Sleeping Cars are used in these excursions, and run through from Chicago and Kansas City without change to California. These cars are furnished with all necessary articles of comfort and convenience, as described elsewhere herein. A colored porter is assigned to each car, under the direction of the regular Pullman conductor. These arrangements give to the passenger every attention obtainable on first-class transportation.

Parties joining the excursions should write to H. A. Bonn, passenger agent, Rialto building, Chicago, who will give necessary information and assistance to passengers regarding tickets, baggage, location in sleeper, etc. Ticket office 212 Clark street, Chicago, corner of Adams street.

CHAIRMAN POTTER.

A Y. M. C. A. Worker Surprised—Railroad Room Notes.

"Books, books," is the cry at the railroad reading room, and although they have nearly 1,400 volumes, they cannot begin to supply the demand. It would surprise one to see the list of readers and the number of books drawn.

There were ninety baths taken at the railroad reading rooms Saturday.

The reception committee of the railroad reading room surprised their chairman, Mr. J. L. Potter, last evening, by calling at his residence in a body and presenting him with a token of their esteem in honor of his birthday. The evening was spent in music and song, with a delightful luncheon. Long live our popular Potter.

Changes of Climate

Kill more people than is generally known. Particularly is this the case in instances where the constitution is delicate, and among our immigrant population seeking new homes in those portions of the west, and where malarial and typhoid fevers prevail at certain seasons of the year. The best preparative for a change in climate or of diet and water which that change necessitates, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only fortifies the system against malaria, a variable temperature, damp, and the debilitating effects of tropical heat, but is also the leading remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, liver complaint, bodily troubles specially apt to attack immigrants and visitors to regions near the equator, mariners and tourists. Whether used as a safeguard by sea voyagers, travelers by land, miners or agriculturists in newly populated districts, this fine specific has elicited the most favorable testimony.

The general store of Barney Tibbets, of New Haven, was entered by burglars last Saturday night and about $200 in cash and goods were taken. The entrance was effected by cutting the glass in the door and apparently was cut from the inside. There is no clue to the burglars.

Another of those double numbers which the publishers of "The Youth's Companion" seem to delight in offering as a pleasant surprise to its readers comes to us this week. A careful reading of one of these special numbers makes it easy to understand why this favorite paper rarely loses an old friend and gains so many thousands of new admirers every year.

At 2 o'clock to-day occurred the funeral of one of Bluffton's oldest and most respected citizens, Nelson Kellogg, sr., aged eighty-six years. The deceased came to Bluffton about the time that city was chosen as the county-seat of Wells county, and has lived there continuously since that date. During the war he published the first republican paper in that county, called the People's Press, which is now the Chronicle. Mrs. Alexander Staub, of this city, is a grand-daughter of the deceased, and was at his bedside at the time of his death. Mr. Staub left this morning for Bluffton.

Last evening among the passengers from this city, on No. 9 train going west on the Fort Wayne road, were three prominent lumbermen, Messrs. W. E. Mossman, J. Colter and A. B. Nickey, who are, at this writing, on their way from Chicago to New Orleans, where they will remain only a few days before their departure for old Mexico to purchase timber. Their trip, as detailed in THE SENTINEL a few days ago, will include Vera Cruz and other important places and they will also penetrate farther south, perhaps into Central America. In the region these gentlemen go is to be found a superior quality of mahogany lumber, hence so extensive a trip. They will be absent six weeks and perhaps two months.

It was therefore decided to postpone a selection from the five candidates proposed for the assistant pastorate.

Mattie Vickers, who is a favorite in Fort Wayne, charmed the audience at the Masonic Temple last night with her splendid rendition of the character of the Swiss girl in "Edelweiss." From the moment she stepped upon the stage until the curtain fell in the last act, her bright, cheerful, sunshiny ways, her singing and dancing, and her acting true to life, won the hearts of the audience. Miss Vickers is an actress of whom the audience never tire, and she is winning fame and fortune in her new Swiss story. She has surrounded herself with a splendid company, every one of whom is an artist in his or her line, and "Edelweiss" would be greeted with a crowded house should it return to this city.

GOING HIGHER.

A Fourth Story to be Added to the Evans Block.

The plans have just been completed by Wing & Mahurin for a fourth story to be added to the Evans block on East Berry street. The improvement is made to accommodate the increasing business of the Hoosier Manufacturing company, which industry will have its facilities added to by placing new machines. George Evans, secretary of the company, is in Chicago to-day for the purpose of ordering new equipment. The contract for the new addition will be let at once so that the work may proceed without delay. The building is 40x100 feet in dimensions.

GETTING POINTERS.

Supt. L. D. McNutt Getting Metropolitan Ideas at Chicago.

Some changes in the way of improving the Fort Wayne Street railway system are no doubt anticipated by that company. They have detailed Supt. L. D. McNutt to Chicago for the purpose, it is said, of getting pointers for the Fort Wayne system. It is thought by some that the company will build the new East Lewis street line to operate by electricity which, if successful, will result in a general adoption of electric lines. There is nothing authentic enough at present, however, to base any opinions on very firmly. The Fort Wayne company have been giving the patrons of their street railway lines good service and in due time other improvements will come. Mr. McNutt is accompanied on his trip by William H. Spencer, of New York city.

MASONIC TEMPLE.

Mlle. Rhea To-Morrow Night and Pauline Hall Friday.

Theater goers will be given a rich treat to-morrow evening at the Temple, when Rhea, the tragic, emotional and beautiful soiree, after an absence of several seasons, will present her new and greatest play, "Josephine, Empress of the French." The same magnificent company, who have been accorded praise in every city visited, will be members of the cast here, principal of whom is Mr. William Harris, a most capable actor, who will play Napoleon Bonapart, one of the greatest creations known to the stage. The costumes are superb and the mountings of the play magnificent. Rhea will crowd the Temple to-morrow night, and she ought to, for she has won plaudits everywhere she has appeared.

Lewis Morrison's grand production of "Faust" will have a two nights' stay at the Masonic, beginning Tuesday, March 3d.

In his revival of "Samual of Posen," M. B. Curtis has spared no pains or expense to make the production equal if not better than originally produced. "Sammy" comes to the Temple next Saturday.

Pauline Hall, the famous comic opera singer, and her company of sixty people, will appear at the Temple Friday evening, February 27. The new comic opera, "Amorita," will be given with a wealth of exquisite costumes and elaborate scenery, combining to make a grand spectacular production of comic opera.

SOME TWELVE FEET.

The Rivers Continue to Surge and Swell Into a Flood.

The rivers continued to rise during the night and at 9 o'clock to-day a person who had kept careful record found that the St. Marys river had risen twelve feet since the recent rain storms. The city flats are badly flooded and the water at Baltes & Remy's addition along Spy Run avenue encroaches upon the premises of a number of residents in that vicinity. The old reunion grounds are under water. The St. Marys river is spreading her wings wider and wider, inundating low lands along its course, but up to this time no damage of great consequence has been reported.
